Ike Says Goodbye As Chief

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he considers the greatest achievement of his eight years in office was the preservation of peace in an era when weakness would almost certainly have brought disastrous war.

Eisenhower gave this appraisal in his last presidential news conference, attended by 280 reporters who crowded into the ornate Indian Treaty room of the old state department building.

The 70-year-old soldier-president dealt quickly, smilingly and emphatically with questions concerned with foreign and domestic problems. He spoke most feelingly when asked what he considered his most satisfying achievement and most heartbreaking failure.

His great disappointment, Eisenhower said, was that the nation could not be brought to the place where it could be said that peace with justice was in sight.

As for achievements, Eisenhower went on, the eight years spanned a period in which the Russians achieved the hydrogen bomb, built an arsenal of nuclear weapons and supported the warlike threats of the Red Chinese—a period in which this country was fighting a war in Korea and there was grave danger it would spread.

This government showed the understanding, firmness and willingness to take risks in support of policies which prevented the great war from coming, the President said.

Had there been weakness in that time, Eisenhower continued, he is convinced there would have been a war that would have been disastrous to all the Earth.

After this grave speech — the

Judge Pence Assumes City Court Duties

Twin Falls Justice of the Peace Robert E. Pence began work Wednesday as the new Twin Falls police judge. City Commission Chairman Vernon Riddle announced his appointment Tuesday.

The present police judge, J. O. Pumphrey is retiring because of illness but will remain in an advisory capacity until Feb. 1. Mrs. Vlette Anderson will remain in her present capacity as secretary of the police court.

Judge Pumphrey was awarded a certificate of meritorious service by the city commission on Jan. 3. He has served 23 years as the Twin Falls police judge, and came under purview of the mandatory retirement provision for city employes reaching 65, required by city law. He was given a one-month appointment as acting police judge earlier this month until a replacement could be found. Wednesday he said he would spend the balance of his term helping Pence become acquainted with the duties and procedures in police court.

Monday evening the Twin Falls city commission voted to appoint Judge Pence as Judge Pumphrey's replacement. Pence, who receives $400 monthly from the county as senior justice of the peace, will be paid $150 monthly by the city. Judge Pumphrey is paid $300 monthly.

Pence, 38, has been a resident of Twin Falls for 30 years. He is married and lives with his wife in the city.

A 1947 cum laude graduate of the University of Southern California with a bachelor of science degree in marketing, Judge Pence also attended the University of Alberta, the University of Southern Idaho and City College of Los Angeles. He served in the U. S. army air force from 1942 to 1945.

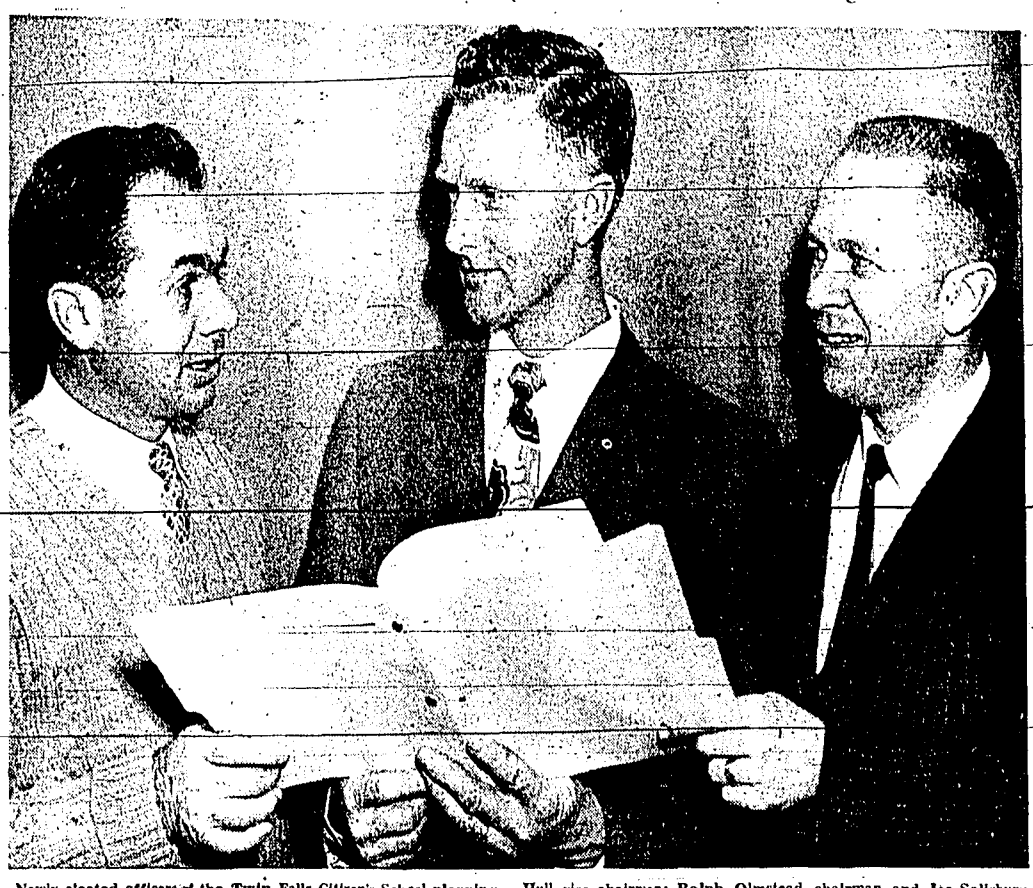

Pence has been in the livestock business for 15 years.

Iowa Town Puzzled Over Embezzlement

SHELDON, Ia., Jan. 18 (UPI)—This small but prosperous northwest Iowa town was thrown into growing turmoil and puzzlement today with news of the embezzlement of more than two million dollars by the respected 58-year-old daughter of a bank president from her father's bank. Indicative of the growing effects of the failure, disclosed yesterday when a bank examiner found the shortages at the Sheldon National bank and traced them to Mrs. Burnice Iverson Geiger, 58, was the action of Harold Kistner, president of a new and prosperous chemical concern.

Kistner, 36, is head of the Northern Bio-Chemical company, which he said had been in existence for about a year. It is a private corporation, registered under Iowa law, and Mrs. Geiger was one of the minority stockholders.

Kistner said that a financial adviser to the company was Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president. He said Roosevelt had visited the city two weeks ago in the capacity of financial adviser to the company, and that, weather permitting, he was scheduled to fly here today.

The company president said he had planned to attend the presidential inauguration in Washington tomorrow but because of the "bank difficulties" he had canceled the trip.

Sheldon, a town of 4,251 persons located in one of Iowa's richest farm sections ("You can't buy land here—you have to inherit it," one resident explained) was more and more puzzled at the defalcations disclosed on Mrs. Geiger's part.

All were asking the question: What became of the money? Federal officials, swarming into town to try to untangle the affairs of the bank, didn't have the answer yet. "I'm sure she has got a lot of it, but we don't know where," said F. E. Van Alstine, U. S. district attorney for this section of Iowa. "We are investigating banks from here to Mexico City to find out."

E. L. Cox, supervisor of liquidation for the federal deposit insurance corporation, said he had 12 to 14 men either here or on the way here to work on the bank.

Those with deposits of more than $10,000, a federal official explained, are allowed to put in a claim for the excess and after months of investigation, payment is made according to whatever can be salvaged.

Mrs. Geiger's structure of defalcation crumpled suddenly Monday when a bank examiner arrived on a routine visit to the institution of which her father, W. P. Iverson, was president.

NEWS BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson told inquiring senators today it may be impossible to prevent red China's ultimate admission to the United Nations.

THA THOM, Laos, Jan. 18 (AP)—Pro-communist rebels bore down on two key government positions in southcentral Laos today, and the outnumbered defenders prepared to take to the jungle for guerilla operations. "The reds are coming—there is no question about it," said Maj. Phong Kave, commander of the undersized battalion at Tha Thom.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Divers made their first entry into the submerged wreckage of the storm-wrecked radar tower off the New Jersey coast today in an effort to recover the bodies of 26 men believed trapped in the air force radar installation. In the first penetration of the tower's living quarters the divers found only debris. The search will continue until all parts of the tri-bubble superstructure have been explored.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Dr. Thomas Dooley, famous jungle doctor of Laos, was reported today to be in serious condition in Memorial hospital with the recurrence of the chest cancer which hospitalized him again last month.

Kimberly Man Is Accidently Shot in Chest

KIMBERLY, Jan. 18 — A 33-year-old Kimberly man, who told officers he accidentally shot himself in the chest with a .25 caliber Colt automatic, was released from Magic Valley Memorial hospital Tuesday evening after treatment for the gunshot wound.

Twin Falls County Sheriff James H. Benham identified the man as Ron Jones, an employe of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company in Kimberly.

Jones told Benham and Kimberly Police Chief Paul Corder he was "just fooling around" with the weapon when it discharged accidentally. The bullet entered the lower portion of his chest, officers said, emerging beneath his left arm.

He was sitting in the bedroom of his home when the accident occurred about 6:30 p.m., Jones told Benham. His wife contacted police officials who responded to the call and had Jones rushed to Twin Falls and the hospital in an ambulance.

Protected

BOISE, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Legislation to protect cultivated lands from penetration of new highways was introduced in the Idaho house of representatives today.

Specifically, the bill requires that the highway board—where alternate routes are available—select the one which does the least injury to improved or cultivated lands.

The measure was introduced by Reps. James G. Martin, R., Jerome; Frank Hirschi, R., Bear Lake, and Charles Powers, D., Custer.

It is similar to a request made to the house highways committee last week by a delegation from the Jerome, Eden and Hazelton areas.

Edward Woozley Is Solon's Aide

BOISE, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Sen. Henry Dworshak, R., Ida., has named Edward Woozley, outgoing director of the U. S. bureau of land management, as his administrative assistant.

Dworshak, in a message from Washington, D. C., said Woozley would succeed Early C. Reynolds, Boise, in the post beginning Feb. 1. Reynolds, who has held the job of Dworshak's administrative assistant for five years, is retiring, the senator said.

Woozley, who is from Malad, has headed the BLM in Washington, D. C., since 1953. Prior to that he was Idaho land commissioner.

Bond Election Goal Set at School Meet

A bond election in April or May for local school expansion was set as the goal of the Citizens' School Planning committee Tuesday night by Ralph Olmstead following his election as permanent chairman. Some 100 members elected Olmstead, Gene Hull, vice chairman, and Joseph Salisbury, secretary. The session completed permanent organization of the group which held its first meeting last November. Following adjournment, members of four working subcommittees met briefly to outline how they expect to go about their assignments of plant facilities, site, finances and public relations.

The meeting also elected co-chairmen of the four subcommittees. Mrs. John Breckenridge and J. P. Smith will be co-chairmen of the plant facilities committee; Frank Feldtman and Charles Looney, site; James S. Kinney and David R. Mead, finances, and Earl Haroldsen and Joseph D. McCollum, public information.

Members voted approval of an advisory committee designated by the nominations group, Olmstead, McCollum and E. E. Jellison. Advisers are Curtis T. Eaton, Sterling C. Larson, Hugh U. Phillips, Mrs. Lucille Kelly, Gordon L. Crockett, John C. Bishop, John H. Breckenridge, Robert W. Stephan, Lowell Dick and E. E. Jellison. The advisory group is composed mostly of members of the executive committee of the 1955 Citizens' committee.

Sterling Larson, who served as temporary chairman during the organization part of the session, told committee members they should look ahead at least five years in planning school expansion. He noted that Twin Falls school patrons have always met the need in the past and he is certain the need will be met again.

During the elections, there was only one contest for office. Gene Hull was elected over E. E. Jellison for vice-chairman. Jellison automatically became a member of the advisory group.

Chairman Olmstead called on several members of the 1955 group to outline briefly the tasks before the various subcommittees.

Hugh Phillips, co-chairman with Mrs. Artell Kelly of the plant facilities group in 1955, said the present problem is construction of a new junior high school. He advised the new group their task is most important and they should start work immediately.

Gordon Crockett, co-chairman with John Bishop of the sites group in 1955, pointed out that Dr. J. Frederick Weltzin, University of Idaho educator, had recommended a 20-acre site for a new junior high school, suggesting the northwest part of the city. He set minimum requirements at 15 acres. Crockett noted that although two real estate men are co-chairmen of the sites committee, they receive

"Get Tough" Road Safety Plan Asked; Wage Hike Passes

BOISE, Jan. 18 (UPI)—The Idaho house of representatives put its stamp of approval 50 to 5 today on a bill to increase the state's minimum wage to the federal level, $1 an hour, and a bill to give Idaho College of Education the status of a university by renaming the institution passed the house of representatives 41 to 10.

The wage measure, which drew opposition in debate from only one measure, now goes to the senate.

The house also approved two companion bills to eliminate the requirement for the labor commissioner to notify employers who violate the wage law and to extend the law's provisions to state and local government employes.

The vote on the labor commissioner requirement was 36 to 18 and on extending benefits to government employes, 53 to 0. However, Rep. Fred Walton, D., Camas, served notice he may ask for reconsideration of the requirement bill and Rep. Allen Shepard, R., Ada., sounded a similar warning on the one to bring government employes under the $1 an hour provisions.

In the senate, meantime, a resolution was passed by a vote of 24 to 17 for a special session in December, 1962, to organize for the 1963 meeting of the state legislature. However, Sen. Art Murphy, D., Shoshone, served notice that he may ask for reconsideration.

In other house action a bill to exempt the operating property of irrigation districts from property taxes passed 53 to 2 and one to exempt certain property from the inheritance tax was approved 55 to 0.

Action on proposed amendment of a controversial bill to raise the minimum driving age in Idaho to 16 from 14 was put off for 24 hours at the request of Rep. Pete Cenarrusa, R., Blaine. He made his motion shortly before Gov. Robert E. Smylies' traffic safety message was read on the floor of the house.

Voting 6 to 3 this morning, the house revenue and taxation committee agreed 6-3 to report out a bill to increase the tax on beer by $3.10. But the committee also voted that the bill be sent to committee of the whole to trim the size of the increase to $1.55.

The committee will ask that the bill which would double the tax to $6.20 a barrel be placed on general orders and amended to cut the increase to $1.55 per barrel.

BOISE, Jan 18 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie set before Idaho legislators today a 10-point "get tough" highway safety program, coincided with house post-reconsideration of the bill, which drew strong opposition Monday, increasing the minimum driving age from 14 to 16 years.

This measure, Smylie "urgently recommended" be enacted as his first point.

"Soft programs do not work," the governor said in his fourth special message to the lawmakers in three weeks.

"If you want traffic safety you will have to conclude that you are going to get tough, and in the following recommendations I urge you to do just that."

The governor did not appear before the lawmakers in person, but handed the special message on safety to them in a prepared statement.

Smylie's 10 points:

1. Raise the minimum age for licensing drivers from 14 to 16, making "this statute as strong as possible."

2. Bring drivers license examination program to the state level under the department of law enforcement.

3. Amend the law governing penalties for persons convicted of driving while license is suspended or revoked to provide for a graduated system of jail sentences upon first, second or third offenses.

4. Enact a statute requiring doctors to report cases involving temporary loss of memory to the driv-

Boise Driver Hurt in Area Auto Mishap

BLISS, Jan. 18—John Davies, 44, Boise, was listed in "good" condition today at Gooding Memorial hospital after a two-car collision about 2 p.m. Tuesday six and one-half miles east of Bliss on state highway 25 on the Malad bridge.

Leo Rice, Gooding, driving west in a 1960 Cadillac, attempted to pass a car and met Davies' car headon Davies was driving a 1960 Chevrolet stationwagon and both men were alone in their cars.

State Patrolman Walter J. Kirtley said that when he arrived at the scene of the accident, Davies' car, which had gone around the end of the bridge, was close to the edge of the canyon. Someone had tied the bumper of Davies' car to the bridge guard rail to keep the car from going over the edge and down 75 feet to the bottom of the gorge.

There was "extensive" damage to the left front of the Cadillac and Kirtley estimated that Davies' car was totally demolished.

Rice was not injured. No citations were issued.

Restraint Asked for Burley Power Firms

BURLEY, Jan. 18—The question of electric power for areas recently annexed into the city of Burley was still in question here today after an all-day session in district court Tuesday at which the city filed an affidavit seeking to restrain the two cooperative electric firms from servicing the area. Attorneys for the Rural Electric company and Unity Light and Power company, which have been involved in litigation with the city since last summer, filed a counter-affidavit opposing the city's restraining order. Among those appearing during the session were John Brogue, manager of the Rural Electric firm; Grant Dunford, manager of the Unity Light and Power; Ben Dansie, city clerk and manager of the city electric company. The right of the city to service the new areas was upheld in district court, but the local power companies appealed the case to the supreme court.

At the present time the city is under a 90-day injunction and restraining order from the Idaho supreme court, which restrains the city from extending power into the new areas.

The cooperative's counter-affidavit was filed on the grounds that persons living in the areas would not be able to obtain electricity from either source while the 90-day injunction is in effect. The injunction has been in effect for about one month.

District Judge Edward Heap ordered City Attorney Herman E. Bedke to submit briefs within 10 days and the cooperative companies attorney, Thomas Church, to submit briefs within 17 days.

Rupert Judge Settles Three Tipsy Counts

Three drunken driving cases have been settled in Rupert police court with one man forfeiting bond and two others being fined by Judge George Redford.

Hobart McCain, 44, Minidoka, forfeited a $100 bond in Rupert police court Tuesday and his driver's license was revoked for one year by Judge Redford for drunken driving. He was arrested Jan. 1 by Rupert police and posted the bond. He first pleaded innocent, but later the plea was changed.

Samuel D. Rogers, 36, Acequia, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Redford Tuesday for drunken driving. He was arrested Dec. 21 by Rupert police and was released on his own recognizance. His license was revoked for one year.

Oscar R. Zimmerman, Pomeroy, Wash., was fined $100 and costs last week and his driver's license was revoked for one year. He was arrested last Friday.

Three drivers forfeited $15 bond each and were given 20 demerits Tuesday by Judge Redford for stop sign violations. They were Oren E. Bates, 28, Rupert; Dee Bailey, 17, Heyburn, and W. R. Paul, Minidoka.

Leonard Assom, 19, Rupert, forfeited a $25 bond and was given 25 demerits by Judge Redford for driving without due regard for existing conditions.

Sharon Klingenberg, 14, Rupert, was cited for failure to yield the right of way and Carl F. Parsons, 50, also Rupert, was cited for speeding as the result of a two-car collision at 60 North Meridian Saturday.

Officers said Miss Klingenberg had stopped her 1954 Chrysler, then pulled back onto the oil into

Curtis Eaton Attends Meet

Curtis Eaton, vice president of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company, is attending a joint conference of Idaho house and senate education committee in Boise.

Eaton is attending the session in his joint capacity as chairman of the state board of education and chairman of the state board of regents.

The bank official has been active in education fields for several years. Locally, he was chairman of the Citizens' School Planning committee in 1955 and on the national scene, he was chairman of Idaho's delegation to the White House conference on education.

Court Dismisses False Ad Count

BOISE, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Idaho commissioner of law enforcement has decreed that a Twin Falls beauty school operator used false advertising, but that there was no violation of Idaho code since it was not done intentionally.

Commissioner E. R. Hopper said Dick Matthews, manager of the Hollywood Beauty college, Twin Falls, "caused to be published . . . false and deceptive advertising statements," but evidence showed such action was not done with the "intention or knowledge of publishing false or deceptive statements."

Hopper dismissed the action and ordered all parties to bear their own costs.

He said that judgment shall serve as a warning" and any future complaints "will be prosecuted vigorously."

Khrushchev States World Reds Fully Support Wars of National Liberation

MOSCOW, Jan. 18 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev says the world communist movement fully supports wars of national liberation. The Soviet leader in a 20,000-word speech published yesterday in the magazine Kommunist called such conflicts a third class of war as distinguished from total thermonuclear and limited "brush fire" wars.

Khrushchev declared that war is not necessary for a victory by world communism, which he said is not far off. But he warned in his speech, a report delivered Jan. 6 to a general meeting of party organizations in Moscow, that war will come if capitalist nations try to resist communism's victory—a victory he said is "inevitable by the laws of historical development."

In Washington, the state department declined to comment on Khrushchev's speech until it has studied the full text.

Khrushchev cited the present Algerian conflict as an example of the third class of war.

It is a sacred war. We recognize such wars. We have helped and shall go on helping people fighting for their freedom."

As another example he mentioned the revolution in Cuba and said that "led by Fidel Castro the people of Cuba won." Khrushchev noted that the United States "did not directly intervene in that war."

His samples of the second class of war, local war which might develop into big ones, were the Indochina fighting of 1953-54 and British-French action in Suez in 1956. He made no mention of the fighting in Laos.

He said it was to communism's advantage to avoid annihilating thermonuclear and "brush fire" wars.

Khrushchev also declared the Soviet Union was sincerely for dis-

Water Tests Show Bacteria Count in Canal Has Dropped

Tests taken by the Southcentral district health department in the Twin Falls domestic water supply show that the bacteria count of water in the lowline canal has dropped considerably since the temporary source of supply from Rock creek has been in effect.

Keith Harvey, director of the district health department, said that even though the present source of supply has a low bacteria count it is still undesirable as a source of supply.

He added that the problem of fish dying in Milner dam reservoir probably will happen every year as long as the Twin Falls Canal company turns off the water and the Snake river remains so polluted. The problem will get worse every year, he added.

The local health department was asked by H. L. Derrick, Twin Falls city manager, to make periodic tests of water being processed at the filter plant since the middle of December when the fish pollution problem began.

Harvey commented that this testing schedule was still in process and that there are "no indications that the Twin Falls water treatment plant is not able to deliver clean safe water to the residents of Twin Falls."

The department has been checking constantly to determine if enough chlorine residue is left in

Farewell, Ike Says at Final Press Confab

longest of the news conference—Eisenhower suddenly grinned and said that Nov. 8 was another great disappointment.

Apart from this rueful comment, and despite the many prodding questions, Eisenhower declined to give his version of what went wrong in the presidential election which cost the Republican party control of the White House.

But his comments were not completely free from political implications as he gave these replies to the cross-fire questions:

The future—the greatest problem facing President-Elect John F. Kennedy when he takes office Friday will be that of dealing with the intransigent and unreasonable attitude of the communist powers.

The basic difficulty will be in keeping this country strong and firm, yet conciliatory, in trying to meet the Soviet attitude, Eisenhower said.

Economic policy—The President slapped at the proposal of Kennedy's economic task force that federal spending be boosted by three to five billion dollars to combat recession and unemployment.

Eisenhower said he is no economic prophet, but he believes the economy will be swinging upward gradually but steadily, and will provide more government revenues than it is now generating.

Public works and other spending programs generally don't take effect until 18 months after they are started—by which time the boom usually has begun again, Eisenhower said. But the billions of dollars spent seem to stay forever in the public debt, he added.

Transition—Eisenhower said he definitely believes there should be changes in the constitutional provisions for election and inauguration, although not necessarily the shorter transition period which many have advocated.

The new president should have at least 80 days in office before presenting to congress his own budget, economic report and legislative program, Eisenhower said. He said he was not ready now to make specific recommendations, but would have more to say about this subject later.

Now the outgoing president presents the program of the outgoing administration to congress, and the incoming president faces a period in which he has responsibility without having had opportunity to prepare and lay down a program, Eisenhower said.

The news conference was the 193rd held by Eisenhower, in Washington; Gettysburg, Pa.; Augusta, Ga., and elsewhere. The last one in Washington was on Sept. 7, although he met reporters in Augusta on Nov. 16 to announce government moves to curb the balance-of-payments deficit.

Eisenhower said he would be pleased if congressional efforts were successful to restore to him the rank of five-star general which he resigned when he became president.

This would be merely a title without extra pay in addition to his presidential pension, Eisenhower said, but it would give him a title of his own and would be satisfying in view of his 40 years of military service.

Eisenhower chuckled when questioned whether he had arrived at a final decision on whether he approves of the constitutional amendment limiting a president to two terms in office.

It's a funny thing, he observed, that ever since the election Republicans have been asking him the same question.

He said he had been inclined to dislike the third-term prohibition at first, but recognizes that without it the danger always would exist of perpetuating a dynasty in the White House. On balance, he said, he now believes that the limitation is a pretty good thing.

Last night the President said his last goodnight to the American people with a prayer for peace and prosperity for all and a warning that "crises there will continue to be."

He told his fellow countrymen he wished he could say that lasting peace is in sight. "But," Eisenhower said, "so much remains to be done."

It was something of a mellow and reminiscent mood that Eisenhower so spoke to the nation in a farewell radio-television address from his White House office.

Two Justices Still Aren't Approved

Justices of the peace in Cassia and Minidoka counties have not yet complied with all the points requisite to assuming office.

District Judge Theron W. Ward said in Twin Falls Wednesday that Minidoka has submitted the name of August Bethke, Paul. Although Judge Ward has approved the original application, he has yet to receive a commission for the post. The commission must be signed by Judge Ward and the clerk of the Minidoka county commission.

No list of applicants from Cassia county has been submitted to Judge Ward for approval. This is the first step of the process defined by state law.

Smylie Urges Tough Safety Highway Plan

ers' license bureau, since "medical evidence indicates that many single serious car accidents can be traced to a lapse in the normal mental processes."

5. Treat "our young drivers as adults" from 16 on. Handle teenage drivers cases under the existing point system program and repeal the law making it mandatory to suspend or revoke teenagers' licenses upon first and second conviction for moving traffic offenses.

6. Provide for state aid for driver education in Idaho schools.

7. Repeal section of the statute which now makes it possible for persons convicted of serious traffic offenses to obtain a restricted driving permit.

8. Establish a minimum wage for justices of the peace and establish minimum qualifications for those seeking the office of probate judge.

9. Amend statutes so that conviction for a traffic violation in a municipal court will be treated the same as a conviction in any other court where suspension or revocation of the drivers license is concerned.

10. Provide minimum wage scale for city police, sheriffs and deputies.

Citing figures to support his recommendations, the governor said, "Since my special message on highway safety to these two houses two years ago, there have been more than 35,000 accidents in our state; 448 people have been killed on Idaho's highways; 10,968 have been injured and the estimated property loss has amounted to $63,855,000—a sum almost twice as high as the approved appropriation for school administration."

Of the 10,968 injured, the governor said, "To realize that even a small percentage of the total might be permanently disabled should shock us into the maximum effort to control and eliminate this continuing American tragedy."

On the question of age, the governor said, "Of the 274 drivers involved in last year's fatal accidents, 79 of them were less than 24 years old."

"Excessive speed," Smylie said, "continues to be a serious traffic accident producer as shown by the increasing number of one-car fatal accidents. During 1960 speed was the evident factor in 89 per cent of these life-taking crashes.

"Serious consideration should be given to the value of seat belts in our motor vehicles." The American Medical association has conclusive evidence, he said, that seat belts would reduce fatalities and the incidence of personal injuries.

In support of his budget recommendation for 16 additional state police officers, Smylie said they will "augment the existing force so that the careless and the reckless and the wilfully errant driver can be more certainly apprehended . . ."

House Backs Hike in State Wages Floor

This was the amount suggested by Smylie in his building message last Friday as a revenue producer to finance his long-range program.

The committee heard testimony from 10 witnesses on the proposal at a public hearing last night. Debate ranged from moral arguments to appeals that the tax burden on the industry is now too great.

Though a project of Rep. Carl Burt, R., Ada, the bill was introduced by the revenue and taxation committee. At the time the committee voted to introduce it, chairman George Crookham, jr., R., Canyon, said it was doing so without any recommendation.

The proposal is drawing protest from the brewing industry and beer retailers and wholesalers.

State Police Supt. A. E Perkins told the committee at the hearing that state patrolmen made 654 drunken driving arrests last year. He also said there was a problem with teen-age beer consumption.

"Most of the teen-agers in a carefree mood need to consume very little beer to either feel its effects, or the psychological effect to be a little inebriated," Perkins said.

Canyon county Sheriff Dale Halle, president of the Idaho Sheriff's association, said it costs the taxpayers "slightly over $12,000 to run the county jail last year, and he added, "We have attempted to estimate that well over one-third of those in jail were there from drinking."

Burt and some others who favor the proposed tax see it as a possible source of additional revenue to help underwrite the cost of law enforcement throughout the state.

A senate joint resolution to amend the constitution and eliminate voting and other discrimination against Chinese and Mongolian persons born outside the U. S. was passed by the house 55 to 0.

Seven bills were introduced in the house at its morning session, one of them a substitute for a bill earlier introduced to give time and one-half pay to women who work more than 40 hours a week. Its sponsor, Rep. Naomi Stebbins, D., Shoshone, withdrew the earlier bill because, she said, it was unclear.

Among the bills tossed in the house hopper were measures calling for appointment of a legislative counsel and requiring the highway board to avoid injury to cultivated land when alternate road routes are available.

Still another would allow party central committees to fill vacancies that exist after primary elections where no person was nominated at any time before the 60th day prior to the general election.

The only outspoken opposition on the floor to the new minimum wage came from Rep. W. Dean Palmer, R., Franklin, who said it would jeopardize after-school employment of young people.

A battle developed, however, over the measure to repeal the law requiring the labor commissioner to notify employers of violation of the minimum wage provisions.

Rep. John Molyneaux, D., Kootenai, said the labor commissioner favored the bill and that it would remove a lot of "expensive paper work" from his job.

However, Rep., W. J. Lanting, R., Twin Falls, asked whether an employer would be subject to penalties if he did not know of any violation and was not informed of one.

Molyneaux said this was the case at present, although the labor commissioner did make such notification.

Rep. J. Vard Chatburn, R., Cassia, said it would make relationships between labor and employers difficult. He said it would work a "hardship on employers and cause us insurmountable amount of labor trouble."

armament which he called "the most important factor in preventing war," and also an important factor in the fight against imperialism.

The Soviet premier saw a fertile field for communism in the awakening of the nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America which he said was second only to the emergence of the world socialist system in historic impact.

He predicted that "fascist dungeons in the Union of South Africa will crumble to dust. Rhodesia, Uganda and other parts of Africa will be free."

"The working class, which today governs a vast area of the world and in time will rule the whole world," Khrushchev said, "cannot allow the doomed forces of imperialism to drag hundreds of millions of people into the grave with them."

One of the means for preventing a new war is the development of "peace fronts" throughout the world, including pacifists of all political beliefs, he said.

absolutely no remuneration and strive to be absolutely fair in every respect.

Crockett also pointed out the sites of the two elementary schools built with the 1955 bond were acquired without condemnation proceedings. He still recommended that additional school sites should be acquired for future expansion.

John Breckenridge, co-chairman with Ralph Olmstead of the 1955 cost study group, said two sources of funds are available for expansion, a bond issue and the plant facilities fund, which contains some $50,000 at present. Earlier, it was pointed out the district can bond for about an additional $1,250,000.

Earl Haroldsen noted that school expansion problems result from continued growth. He called on the lay committee to formulate a clearcut program that matches needs to available funds. He notes two phases of the current problem: some sort of fire alarm system in the present junior high school and chronic overcrowding in the same building.

"I'm sure the voters will approve a good program," he declared.

We urge that you please postpone burning weeds and ditchbanks until the water is back in the Canal system.

If burning is necessary, make certain that the utmost caution is used. Our fire trucks are equipped with only 300 gallon tanks and when that water is gone they must drive to the nearest town or open seepage stream to replenish it.

Needless to say, this delay could be disastrous.

Water will be back in the system around the first of March, and we will be able to furnish you with a more complete fire protection after that date.

Benson Lays Out His Farm Plans Record

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (UPD — Ezra Taft Benson listed "certain facts about agriculture" yesterday in his last news conference as agriculture secretary. The record he laid out appeared to be a challenge to the Kennedy administration.

Benson will relinquish his job Friday to former Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman.

"It has always been this administration's position that the management of our farms and ranches is best left in the hands of farmers and ranchers themselves," Benson said in listing what he called "benchmarks."

"Local, state and federal governments can and should provide sound help but farmers must be free to control their own operations and permit price to play its traditional role in directing production and consumption."

He included these "benchmarks":

—Four-fifths of agriculture is free of government production controls and only five of some 250 commodities produced commercially are still subject to such controls.

—The latest index of farm prices is five per cent higher than a year ago.

—Fifteen of the 21 commodities under price support are selling at, or above, their support levels.

—Only 12 commodities currently are in government inventory. Ten items in inventory in 1953 are no longer in government storage.

—Despite record crops in 1958, 1959 and 1960, government surplus holdings are less now than in November, 1959, their all-time peak. While the surplus grew 4.6 billion dollars in 1953 and 1954, only three billion dollars has been added in the past six years.

—Since Jan. 1, 1953, the commodity credit corporation has disposed of about 22 billion dollars in government-owned farm commodities with dollar sales comprising 55 per cent of the total.

Court to Study Rate Increases

BOISE, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Idaho public utilities commission took under advisement yesterday the request of four railroads operating in Idaho for rate increases.

The PUC heard protests from four mining and lumber firms on the proposed rail increase which Commission President A. O. Sheldon said would amount to an average rate increase of 1½ per cent.

The railroads involved — Union Pacific, Chicago, Milwaukee and Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Spokane International—were seeking the increase in intra-state rates to match a corresponding increase already granted by the interstate commerce commission in interstate rates.

Companies protesting at the hearings were Food Machinery and Chemical corporation, J. R. Simplot company, Bunker Hill company and Boise-Cascade company.

CHANCE FOR MIRACLE

President Charles de Gaulle unquestionably is now embarking upon what must inevitably be the most critical days of his entire career as leader of France.

Algeria, everyone understands, is France's toughest problem. The referendum De Gaulle has won on the issue does not solve it in any degree. It is simply a mandate to him to continue trying to solve it.

De Gaulle won the mandate partly because he made it a clear test of his leadership. Most Frenchmen grasped the fact that they have no really effective alternative to the austere general. They were not prepared to rebuff him.

They appreciate, too, that they cannot stand still on the Algerian issue. They may not like the direction in which De Gaulle proposes to move—toward a strong measure of Algerian self-determination—but they know they cannot live forever with the terrible economic and military drain Algeria now represents.

How it will be ended is still the great puzzle. The Algerian rebels, despite De Gaulle's many sincere overtures, have not yet come to the bargaining table. The bloodshed goes on.

Tens of thousands of less violent Moslems in Algeria declined to take part in the big referendum. No one knows to what extent, if any, they will now participate in the various Algerian assemblies which must be formed if self-determination is to become the reality De Gaulle seeks.

On the other side, it is thoroughly plain that the Europeans in Algeria, not to mention strong elements in the French army, are still substantially opposed to any solution which gives the Algerian Moslems the inevitable ascendancy their numbers warrant.

In virtually every approach he has made to the Algerian problem, De Gaulle has proved himself pre-eminently the statesman. But to crack this major dilemma seems to require nothing less than the powers of a miracle maker.

A large share of the population in France and Algeria has given De Gaulle the additional opportunity he demanded to attempt the miracle.

THE COWARDLY WHY

The basic reason for the states' and local communities' financial reliance upon federal taxes redistributed by Washington is the political cowardice of so many governors, Democrats and Republicans, their state legislatures, and local governmental units.

With only a few exceptions, all of these officials want federal funds to help in the construction of schools, highways, hospitals and other state or local facilities. But they do not want to impose the taxes that would be necessary to build these projects.

From a selfish, political standpoint, it is far easier to permit the federal government to undertake the harsh task of collecting the required taxes. Then, in campaign time, depending upon the local officials' political affiliation, they can accuse the party in power at Washington for imposing this burden on the taxpayers.

The disparity between New Jersey's and many other "wealthy" states' payments and receipts also explains this anomalous situation.

The poorer states, the beneficiaries of these payments, have a majority in both the house and the senate. They are only too happy to "soak" states like New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, California etc.

In addition, it is these states, where their representation at Washington does not change from year to year, thus giving their members seniority, which provide the leaders and committee chairmen on capitol hill.

POP GOES BUST

Few elements of our population are afforded more tender solicitude by the federal bureaucrats than the small businessmen. Yet, a new publication of the small business administration reports that a growing federal program is a menace to them.

Nearly one out of four small businessmen displaced by urban renewal programs are forced out of business entirely, says Management Research Summary No. 1. In the next 10 years, if urban renewal goes ahead on schedule, 150,000 small businesses will be displaced, and 37,000 of them can be expected to go to the wall as a result.

"When the businessman about to be dislocated starts looking for a new location, he finds that he is competing with others also being forced out of the redevelopment area," the report says. "He also finds that the rent for available space is considerably higher than he has been paying—sometimes twice as much."

Further, as New York City discovered, the planners of urban utopias can be a forgetful lot, and often provisions for shopping facilities get left out of the new developments. So businessmen can't come back into the old neighborhood, and the residents have long treks to make after their dry cleaning and groceries.

"Pop," the corner grocer, once a useful and familiar fixture in the block, thus finds his days are numbered by the very government that has honored him with much lip service.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — President-Elect Kennedy's national defense and world disarmament plans place him in an extremely difficult position with respect to his administration's relations with Russia.

President-Elect Kennedy's major theme on foreign affairs in his campaign speeches was that he would "make America strong." He will, undoubtedly, reiterate that pledge in his inaugural address on Friday. He accused President Eisenhower of failure in this respect, a charge which stung the World war II supreme allied commander.

Ray Tucker

Several of his task forces have, as expected, supported the Kennedy position since the election. Vice President-Elect Johnson's senate subcommittee on national defense so reported, especially in regard to the development of missiles and our alleged lag in the race to outer space.

PSYCHOLOGICAL TRIUMPH—In fact, an Eisenhower group, including Allen W. Dulles, director of the central intelligency agency, in a study of the government's various information and propaganda services, said about Russia's achievements in this field:

"Without question, the launching of the first sputnik gave the Soviet Union a psychological triumph which has profoundly affected its image as a technically advanced nation and as a great military power."

This comment by an Eisenhower-appointed body of experts is as harsh as any criticism uttered by President-Elect Kennedy and other Democratic speakers in the heat of the campaign.

Although Kennedy and Robert S. McNamara, defense secretary-designate, have not yet formulated specific plans, it is believed that at least an additional five billion dollars will be required to finance their program for expansion of the military establishment at home and abroad. Some Pentagon spokesmen want 10 billion dollars more than the 40 billion dollars proposed by the Eisenhower administration.

MODUS VIVENDI? — Meanwhile, President-Elect Kennedy hopes to be able, as he intimated during the campaign, to improve relations with Moscow as soon as he is well settled in the presidency. Indeed, there will probably be a more determined attempt to reach a modus Vivendi with Red China, though Secretary of State-Designate Dean Rusk has conditioned any dealings with Red China with strong legal and moral arguments, indicating there will be no rush to deal with Peiping.

Several top members of the new administration's state department and diplomatic setup are known to feel that such a joint effort must be made to allay neutral and allied fears that the United States is a "trigger-happy nation." Two of the more prominent advocates of this policy are Adlai E. Stevenson, who will be our U. N. ambassador, and Chester W. Bowles, incoming undersecretary of state.

Nikita Khrushchev has indicated that he would welcome an American reapproachment, including possibly another summit meeting. The Moscow press and the Kremlin uttered relatively kind words for President Eisenhower's successor, even expressing willingness to "forget" the U2 incident. And Stevenson is Khrushchev's "favorite American."

TWIN PERILS—However, Mr. K may break off or withdraw this olive branch, if the Kennedy administration embarks on an expanded national defense program. As his shift from cordiality to hatred with respect to President Eisenhower revealed, personalities don't count with the dictator in the Kremlin.

Kennedy's timing of his two programs—armament and disarmament—will likewise be important. If, as probable, he first sets out to expand and strengthen the defense establishment and our various alliances, relations with Russia will undoubtedly continue to deteriorate, as they have during the last year, since the disastrous summit conference at Paris.

How the president-elect maneuvers between the Scylla of national defense rebuilding and the Charybdis of better relations with Russia—and strides toward world peace—will provide the first real test of his stature as a statesman.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

WORK AND PENSIONS

One of the most common complaints against the Social Security system is that retired persons between 65 and 72 years old lose their benefit payments or have them trimmed if their earnings go beyond a certain point.

In the early days of the system in the depression years, the "pension" was lost for any month in which the recipient earned as much as $15. This was gradually increased to $75 at the behest of oldsters penalized by inflation and inactivity. In 1954, the amount of permissible outside earnings was increased and the test was put on a yearly rather than monthly basis. Thus the senior citizen covered by Social Security could earn up to $1,200 annually without loss of benefits.

Although this was an improvement, notably in that the insured person could work at full wages for several months without losing his social security check, it still had the effect of penalizing older men and women who engaged in gainful activity.

Beginning January 1, an estimated 500,000 families collecting social security will be permitted to earn more without losing their pensions.

After much huffing and puffing, the last congress adopted legislation providing that a retired person under 72 will lose 50 cents in benefits for every $1 of earnings between $1,200 and $1,500 a year. He will lose $1 for every $1 of earnings in excess of $1,500.

Henceforth, a man drawing the maximum retirement benefit of $120 a month can earn $2,700 on the outside before losing all his payments for the year. If he has a wife covered by social security but not working outside the home, some benefits will be paid if his earnings for the year are under $3,510. As in the past, benefits will not be withheld for any one month in which earnings are $100 or less. Persons over 72 can earn any amount without peril to their pensions.

Earning limitations under social security are based on the premise that benefits ought to go only to those who are retired. Liberalization has been necessary, however, because of increased living costs, the rise in the level of wages and because termination of work activity has proved psychologically damaging to many persons.

Why not remove altogether the restrictions to outside earnings after 65? The cost of social security would skyrocket as many not retired collected benefits. The total added cost of the provisions effective in 1961 is estimated at only 40 million dollars annually, however.—Salt Lake Tribune.

THEY NEED IT MOST

With the November elections two months in the past and the newly elected U. S. congressmen and state legislators now in office attempting to do something to improve the domestic and world situations, the residents of the county could well be looking around for someone to oppose the incumbents in the elections two years away.

The suggestion might seem a bit ridiculous, but then again it may have its merit. There are always plenty of candidates for the offices when the election time rolls around, but the taxpayers should be looking for the men that favor programs that will benefit them.

With the lawmakers freely throwing taxpayers' money into spending programs that include federal aid to schools, federal aid to the aged, federal aid for housing, federal aid to highways, federal aid to depressed areas and the hundreds of other costly schemes, some candidate must come up with one more proposal.

Our candidate will be the one who proposes a bill for federal aid to the taxpayer.—The Minidoka County News.

Success is what makes your friends think you're plain lucky.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

". . . They're still enjoying their Christmas tree."

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Ave Maria, the magazine of Notre Dame, recently carried an editorial "column" by a young priest of the resident faculty berating some women who stood near a public school in New Orleans shouting hostile sentiments at white and colored individuals, including two tidy little colored girls.

Westbrook Pegler

I had chanced to see this incident on TV and it seemed to me that the little girls were remarkably prepossessing and starchy. The scene was loaded with "types" and I would not have touched it as a subject of comment without deeper inquiry—nor do I now. I just didn't know how all the proponents of "integration" could be so winsome and tidy and all the opponents so vulgar, hostile and unkind.

Because I know "integrationists" are not uniformly appetizing, and many segregationists are genteel and more hostile toward Earl Warren on constitutional grounds than to colored people on any grounds.

The author of this editorial in Ave Maria, a cleric of pronounced pulchritude, might well entertain ideas of a TV program of his own. He seemed to me to have taken more for granted than a callous and worldly columnist would. In the cruel world at large as distinguished from the soft, intellectual world of the cloisters, we laity learn that things are not always as they seem.

The most appealing picture of a child I ever saw showed a Chinese boy of about 2 years, sitting between the rails at some Chinese station back in the days of the Japanese invasion. He was bawling his head off. There was smoke in the offing and there were stark walls and other conventional properties of military disaster.

I was stirred at the time, but a close friend who had experience in a tabloid city room said I could not be too sure. This friend said, "Maybe somebody pinched that little boy and sat him down there between the tracks. If you pinch a little boy he will yowl. He hurts."

This friend had worked on the New York News down in the old Barclay street plant when Harry Warnecke of the photographic staff brought in a wonderful shot of a cat crossing Center street with a kitten in her teeth while a traffic policemen held the cars back with that commanding gesture of his white-gloved right hand.

But there was a fringe of corn off to the left of the picture. There half a dozen loafers, like errand boys, stood looking into the camera, not at the cat and kitten. It looked spontaneous and genuine to laymen, but I was current around the Daily News office then, in 1925, and knew that the shot was cheesecake. That is, Warnecke lit out for the action on a tip but got there a moment too late. So the cop kindly helped by holding back the traffic while someone planted the cat and kitten back at the starting line and the mama cat did it again.

Soon after the second war, Jimmy Patterson, the son of the late Joseph Medill Patterson, the founder of the New York News, was in the office of Robert R. McCormick of the Chicago Tribune. Jimmy had gone through West Point and had done his stuff in that war and he had a share of a vein of skepticism about the U. S. marines which Patterson and McCormick sometimes gave mild expression to. They were army.

McCormick had lately hung on his wall a shot of the raising of the flag at Iwo Jima. Jimmy stopped and really studied it. Jimmy said it was very, very curious that it took six of those great big, gorgeous marines to manhandle that flag, a few ounces at most, and a one-inch galvanized iron pipe into an upright position. And it seemed foolhardy too, even for marines, to use such a big detail for this duty if the place was under heavy fire as we were told at the time.

Not long afterward many others had the same thought so the marines confessed that there was no camera present when the marines spontaneously hoisted the flag in the first place. Therefore they scrounged up a detail and did it over. There were two or three of the original party in the second version, which finally was cast into more or less imperishable bronze as a memorial battle monument.

These political scuffles of the Little Rock type can be staged and I clearly detected in the New Orleans clamor the provocations of a distinct type of New York reporter, common to TV and the weekly so-called news magazine. They were needling people with the kind of questions that would poke them up and set them to snarling.

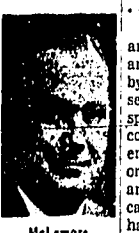

The priest in Ave Maria should study skepticism. It certainly was true that those white women looked mean, riled up as they were and needled by provocateurs whose professional rating rises according to their ability that way.

The new deal fearlessly denounced Republican photographers for toting a papier-mache skull of a steer from place to place in the dust bowl in 1936 and sending out news pics to prove that Roosevelt had not cured the drought as promised.

Henry Summarizes Leaders, Parties, Situation in Congo

By HENRY McLEMORE

ROME, Italy—To follow intelligently the chaotic events in Asia and Africa it is necessary to know the leaders of the various parties, tribes, groups and factions, and the causes for which they stand.

McLemore

For the benefit of readers, here are capsule profiles of the personalities now in the news:

Wu Luau—Rabid pro-communist leader of the guerrilla faction . . .

Lom Masai, pro-western leader of the Bong tribe battling the communists for possession of Larl Hola and Nguan airport. His brother, Oblate Masai, recently returned from an economic mission to Cuba, shares with Lom Masai a passionate interest in bandolier belts, American aid and unchipped Coke bottles. Lom Masai's greatest rival is . . .

Phou Cho, graduate of Laos Phis War college and unrivaled builder of roadblocks, whose ambushes have been studied at Sludgehurst. A vigorous supporter of Khrushchev and the free world, Phou Cho is a sensitive hypochondriac and takes as many para-drops, and from both sides, as possible. When not terrorizing the closest border to his capital city of Huan Whang, he crochets, sorts American aid and repairs bongo drums. His arch enemy is...

Col. Viet Prabang, one-time Congo boatman whose short tenure as prime minister of Lumph Hobi was marked by conflict between pro-western and pro-communist forces, both of which he supported with sincerity and guerilla troops. He believes in more American aid, heavier taxation of phinda growers and triple feature movies. His chief threat to regaining his post of prime minister is . . .

Hablang Taos, deposed foreign minister of Lubada Sulada, who has set up a provincial government and taken a firm stand both for the West and the East, with matinees for neutrality on Wednesday afternoons, when he likes to practice magic and witchcraft. Hablang Taos is scheduled to speak before the U.N. as soon as America can land a plane on the airfield torn up by Hablang's Taos's supporters a week ago. His efforts to speak at the U.N. are opposed by . . .

Prince Suva Hyphol, rotund but articulate pro-communist by night and hardy supporter of the West by day. Hyphol, a former foreign secretary under Lumi Gango, spends his spare time training Tarcons, seeking American aid and encouraging ballet for the pheasant or farm folks. Calm save when aroused, and aroused save when calm, Prince Hyphol has a special hatred for . . .

Larani Whang, one-time commander-in-chief of the Muara Bong army. Whang has made great inroads on Hyphol's popularity with his motto of "bloodshed, neutrality and American aid." His collection of funeral furs is unsurpassed in the Far East and he is a devoted patron of night whippet racing.

The present fate of two contingents is chiefly in the hands of these men. It is too early, as well as too late, to predict which will emerge as the strong man.

Aid to Heart Victim Talk Wins Pencil

Pat Hamilton's speech on how to help the victim of a heart attack won the blue pencil at Tuesday night's meeting of Toastmaster's club 149.

John Eaton told a fable about the porcupines and lions to illustrate that the registration of firearms does not keep the weapons out of the hands of the undesirable and that it also plays into the hands of any would-be invaders.

Two other speakers talked about grapes. Al Murphy presented an outline of grape culture, and Eddie Dauplaise explained grape wine making and urged Magic Valley citizens to make use of the grapes grown in the area.

A speech contest will begin next Tuesday night, it was decided during a business meeting. Speakers for the first week of the contest will be Jerre Cover, Lloyd Webb, Roger O'Brien and Robert Colner.

Fred Harder was toastmaster for the meeting, Colner served as table topics chairman and Arnold Helwege was chief evaluator. Assistant critics were Cover, Ray Linocln and Richard Cook.

Victor E. Kendall and Gordon Condie, Salt Lake City, were guests.

West Winds Act up; New Winter Due

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (UPI)— The high westerlies have gone sluggish again, so get set for new invasions of cold wintry air from the north.

This was the word today from Jerome Namias, chief of the weather bureau's extended forecasts section. The outlook for some time ahead is not good for the east, south, and central parts of the country.

Winds Were Straight

Last fall the high westerlies were blowing straight and strong across the northern United States. The effect was to block Arctic air masses trying to thrust their way southward.

Around the middle of November, the westerlies went flabby and got on an undulating course which left the country wide open to attack from the frigid north. The result was an early onset of winter.

The high winds, which circle the northern hemisphere constantly in a west-to-east direction, reached a low point in vigor around Dec. 20.

Then something began to pep them up, and in the past couple of weeks over America they were flowing powerfully and reasonably straight. During that period most of the country enjoyed mild weather.

Winds "Decay" Again

But about a week ago over Europe the westerlies began to show "signs of decay," Namias said. This condition worked its way westward, against the current, so to speak, and now the symptoms of enfeeblement are pronounced over both North America and the Pacific.

The effect on the weather is expected to be progressive as cold air masses are successively channeled southward. Namias said the new winter pattern looks as though it might be "tenacious."

Burley Plans Bond Voting On Sewerage

BURLEY, Jan. 18—Plans were made by the Burley city council at its meeting in the city hall Monday evening to hold a sewer bond election in April. The bond for a lagoon type of treatment system would be about $700,000, according to Mayor J. Leonard Salmon.

The council signed an agreement with the state highway department for a permit to cross the Burley-Paul bridge on Overland avenue with power lines to serve electricity to north Burley. Action at the present time is being held up by a 90-day restraining order served the city by the Idaho supreme court in a case involving the Rural Electric company.

LeRoy Garner, Burley, requested permission to build a private airplane hanger at the municipal airport. Garner operates an agriculture spraying service.

Councilmen withheld any decision on this request until its next meeting. The city has a lease with Phil Payne, present operator of the airport.

Payne attended the meeting to protest Garner's request. Payne contended that his lease with the city protects him on competition on airport services he provides. It was revealed that Payne intended to initiate a spraying service at the airport.

Legal counsel accompanying Garner was Norman Nielson and Payne's counsel was Richard Smith. Herman Bedke represents the city. After lengthy discussion it was noted that the problem could not be settled until terms of the prior lease agreements with the government are determined definitely and investigation will be made.

Garner has based his planes at the airport for the past two years and has used maintenance facilities provided by Payne.

Building permits were issued in the amount of $100,800. They were to G. M. McClintock for two homes in the Green Acres subdivision, $7,200 each; Harold C. Higgs, new home, Pine View subdivision on Almo avenue, $12,000; Robert Buffington, new home, Mountain View, $12,000; Fetzer and Helb, new home, Mountain View, $14,800; Clifford Davis, new home, Mountain View, $14,800; Clifford Davis, new home, Green Acres, $9,800, and R. R. Bohannon, new home, southeast second, $23,000.

Theft Reported

JEROME, Jan. 18—Theft of a variety of supplies from an Idaho Power company line crew was reported Tuesday by the sheriff's office here. The material was taken sometime Saturday evening from a line crew truck five miles west and two miles north of Jerome on a county road.

Stolen was 90 pounds of five-sixteenth inch guy wire, 100 sq. washers and a variety of bolts.

Experts Fail To End East Ferry Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Negotiators failed today to settle a strike of tugboat crews that knocked out commuter railroad service for 70,000 and has suburban officials in an uproar.

Federal mediators called off settlement talks at 2 a.m. (EST) when representatives for the 11 railroads involved in the dispute refused union demands for arbitration and minimum crew job security in a new contract.

"We don't see any hope of settling anything," Federal Mediator Robert O. Boyd said when the meetings broke up. Another meeting was set for later today.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner was prepared to step into the dispute and bring both sides together at Gracie mansion as pressure mounted for a quick settlement of the eight-day strike.

The small band of 660 railroad tug and ferry crewmen caused cancellation of all passenger train service on the New York Central railroad in and out of New York City yesterday when trainmen refused to cross their picket lines.

An estimated 40,000 daily commuters from suburban Westchester county were forced for the second day to find other ways to get to work. Westchester county Executive Edwin G. Michaelian called the situation "intolerable."

American institutions of higher learning have approximately 76,000 part-time teachers.

United Fund Discussed by Burley Meet

BURLEY, Jan. 18 — A United Fund type drive was discussed during the meeting of the board of directors of the Burley Chamber of Commerce at the Village Kitchen Tuesday morning.

Charles Hendricks, president, stated that the Rev. Hugh Wintersteen had asked him about this type of fund raising program. More information will be gathered concerning it and action will be taken at a later meeting.

Mayor J. Leonard Salmon asked for the chamber's support in promoting a bond issue for the new sewage plant needed by the city. The chamber will send a representative Friday evening to meet with city officials, an engineer and fiscal agent from a bonding company to discuss the lagoon type of sewage plant. A report on the meeting will be made at the Monday chamber meeting.

Bob Detmers and Jack Holland stated that there may be a need for transportation for the ski school to the Pomerelle ski area next year. The group also discussed improvement of the Howell canyon road leading to the area.

Meet Today

Arctic air spread southward from the Dakotas and Minnesota today, returning wintry temperatures to the upper Midwest and Great Plains states.

Highest temperatures were expected barely to top freezing in the area today, after highs in the upper 40's and low 50's yesterday.

Snow flurries fell at scattered spots along the leading edge of the cold front from western Montana to New England.

Thirty-degree temperatures were the rule from the Rockies through the Mississippi valley and southward to the central portions of the Gulf coast states. Forty-degree weather ranged from Florida to New York along the Atlantic coast and from central California to Washington on the Pacific.

NOTHING LESS THAN A MIRACLE IN MOTION PICTURES!
I parted with Elizabeth, never dreaming that she would follow me.
Elizabeth stowed away, so great was her courage and her love for me.
A storm wrecked the ship and I was washed overboard by a gigantic wave.
I awoke a prisoner of the Lilliputians, bound in thousands of silken threads.
Singlehanded, I destroyed the fleet of the Lilliputians' enemy, Blefesco.
I befriended the little people and helped two of them find romance.
Escaping from Lilliput, I had adventures in Brobdingnag, land of giants.
The King and Queen kept me as a household pet under a giant glass bottle.
We put to sea in a huge basket, the property of a girl forty feet tall.

Wife of Demo Chief Goes to U. S. Capital

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 18 (UPI) —Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, rested by six weeks of privacy in the Florida sun, left for Washington today to become the nation's first lady.

The 31-year-old brown-eyed, brunette beauty, accompanied by her two secretaries, traveled aboard the Kennedy family plane that carried President-Elect John F. Kennedy to Washington and New York yesterday.

The two Kennedy children, Caroline, 3, and John, almost 8 weeks, will stay behind in Palm Beach for the next week or 10 days until their nurseries are ready at the White House.

Mrs. Kennedy missed out on the big party tossed by her sister and brother-in-law, the Stephen Smiths, last night at their Georgetown home. But she plans to take in some of the other festivities beginning tomorrow night when she steps out in the town with her husband to attend a concert at Constitution hall and the gala where many of her friends will be on stage.

On Friday she will be one of the star attractions when her husband takes the oath of the presidency and later that evening when she makes her rounds of three inaugural balls in their honor.

Education Study Draws Criticism

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman said last night that task force educational recommendations to President-Elect John F. Kennedy are unfair to Roman Catholic parochial and private school students.

Cardinal Spellman read a prepared statement at a final report meeting of the cardinal's educational campaign.

He said the task force report to Kennedy proposed a 9.3 billion dollar program of federal aid to education, with 5.8 billion dollars allotted to public elementary and high schools.

"No Catholic schools or schools of other religious denominations are included in the task force proposal," Cardinal Spellman said.

Man Sentenced For Check Case

BURLEY, Jan. 18—Dick J. DeBora, 43, Denver, was sentenced to not more than three years in the state penitentiary by District Judge Edward Heap Monday for forgery.

DeBora was arrested in Twin Falls, where he had given himself up, by Cassia County Sheriff LePage Layton and appeared before Probate Judge Vern Carter Nov. 29. He forged the name of Brown Roberts, star route, Declo, for whom he had worked.

DeBora waived preliminary hearing, was bound over to district court Nov. 30 on $500 bond and pleaded guilty in district court Jan. 9.

Past, Present Draft Board Members Honored

W. W. Frantz, left, presents American Legion citations for meritorius service to H. E. Powers, Kimberly, center, and Walter C. Cunningham, Boise. The awards were among 12 presented Tuesday evening in the American Legion hall to past and present members of the Twin Falls county selective service board. Powers is chairman of the local board, serving on it since Sept. 13, 1948. Cunningham, a former Twin Falls resident, served on the board from Oct. 7, 1940, to Jan. 30, 1943. (Staff photo-engraving)

24 Members of Draft Board Honored by American Legion

Twenty-four past and present members of the Twin Falls county Selective service board were honored Tuesday evening by American Legion post No. 7, during a meeting in the American Legion hall.

Of the 24 persons honored, 12 were present to receive "citations for meritorious service," three were unable to attend and wrote letters which were read, three were not present and six are deceased.

Those present and receiving the awards from W. W. Frantz were Walter C. Musgrave, Boise, a former Twin Falls resident; Edward Babcock, Hugh O. Boone, Thomas C. Bucklin, Orrin A. Fuller, U. N. Terry and Glynn E. Smith, all Twin Falls; George S. Carder, V. A. Allison and F. M. Hudson, all Filer, and H. E. Powers, Kimberly.

Those unable to attend the awards meeting included Lem A. Chapin, Ladolla, Calif.; Lawrence V. Groves, Benjamin F. Magel and Paul R. Taber, all Twin Falls; Ivor E. Nitsche, Reno, Nev., and F. V. Morrison, Murtaugh. Letters from Chapin, Nitsche and Taber were read by Frantz.

Prior to presenting the awards, Frantz read the names of those who have died, including George A. Childs, Joe Koehler, W. W. Thomas, Loomis Drown, Emmett E. Kail and Vernon E. Morgan.

Frantz explained some of the duties of selective service board members.

Arnold Helwege introduced Thomas R. Hovendon, who talked on "The war ahead."

Hovendon pointed out that it would be a real war, not just a cold war, and added that if Americans revaluate their ideals, they can beat the cold war.

He noted that the nation should strengthen its foreign aid program and teach the countries how to use the aid. He also stressed the importance of civilian defense.

Name Omitted

SHOSHONE, Jan. 18—The name of Burton Thorne was left off the list of fair board members at the Lincoln county commissioners meeting last week.

Also instead of Eldon Guthrie, it is Mrs. Guthrie who will serve the fair board again this year.

Dinner Set

BURLEY, Jan. 18—The Burley Christian church will hold a family night covered dish dinner in the church parlor at 7:15 p.m. Friday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Emil Helseth will show colored slides of their trip to Scotland and England after the dinner. The public is invited.

Treaty Backed

BOISE, Jan. 18 (AP)—A memorial urging congress to ratify a treaty between Canada and the United States providing for prompt construction of Libby dam in Montana was passed yesterday by Idaho's house of representatives.

Armory Plans at Rupert Get Boost

RUPERT, Jan. 18—Plans for the construction of a new national guard armory at Rupert were advanced further this week when a bill to provide federal funds for the project was submitted to congress, reports Sgt. Richard Fisher of the Rupert unit.

Rep. Ralph Harding, D., Ida., reported that the department of defense has submitted a bill to congress authorizing military construction totaling $823,137,000. Harding said that included in this amount was $75,000 for the construction of training facilities for the national guard armory at Rupert.

Fisher notes there is a possibility of work starting on the building in late summer of this year.

Lumumba, 2 Aides Moved To New Jail

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Katanga government announced today that deposed Congo premier Patrice Lumumba and two close associates had been transferred to a jail in Katanga province because their army confinement near Leopoldville was not considered secure.

Swedish U.N. troops at the Elisbathville airport when the fiery ex-premier arrived yesterday said European-officered units of the Katanga police beat the three prisoners unmercifully. Lumumba was reported badly bruised.

The Katanga government headed by an arch enemy of Lumumba, provincial President Moise Tshombe said the captives were taken to a place outside Elisabethville.

A Swedish source said they were in jail at Jadotville, about 60 miles from Elisabethville.

Lumumba has been held at the military camp at Thysville, 80 miles southwest of Leopoldville, the Congo capital, but was freed briefly there Friday when some of the garrison rioted over pay.

The ex-premier did not get away from the camp, but rumors that he was free set off a panic among anti-Lumumba Belgians and Congolese in Leopoldville.

Kennedy Told to Study China Ties

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy has received a recommendation that the United States take a new look at its restrictions on trade with Red China.

A study by the senate-commerce committee staff, submitted to Kennedy yesterday, said the review should be undertaken "in light of restrictions applicable to trade with other communist countries."

It added, however, that the review should be "in the context of prevailing considerations of foreign policy toward the Peiping regime.

The staff experts also proposed a program of "adjustment assistance" to domestic areas or industries hard hit by competing foreign imports as an alternative to cutting back imports.

Plans Completed for Purchase of 65-Acre Tract

Harold Hove, left, chairman of the industrial division of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, examines with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lincoln, Twin Falls, one of the two proposed railroad routes for the industrial park site. About one-half mile of track will be laid. The option for the site on a 65-acre tract southeast of Twin Falls was signed by Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Monday, sealing the purchase by the local chamber. The Lincolns will receive $78,000 for the property. A nationally-known business already has expressed an interest in several acres on the tract, Hove comments, as have several local businesses. Red Cross Is Angered by Castro Arms

HAVANA, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Private hospitals here have protested to the International Red Cross about the Castro regime's emplacement of antiaircraft and other guns on their premises, it was reported today.

Hospital sources said the Red Cross has appealed to Premier Fidel Castro's government to observe the Geneva convention which forbids fortification of hospitals.

At the same time, students at private high schools here were reported planning a strike to protest the arrest of student leaders and the occupation of private (mostly Roman Catholic) schools by Castro's militia.

Several teen-age students from the Catholic marist school were arrested when they staged a street demonstration yesterday protesting the arrests.

The student leaders arrested previously included J. Richard, a college boy accused of "terrorism," and Pedro Boitel, Catholic student leader at Havana university who was denounced as an anti-Castro-ite.

Quota Set in Burley Event

BURLEY, Jan. 18 — The Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Burley at the Elks hall from 2 to 6 p.m. Monday, Jan. 30, announces Mrs. Robert Malberg, Cassia county chairman.

The county's quota again has been set for 150 pints. Cassia county residents used 42 pints in other than the local hospital since the last drawing four months ago and approximately 120 pints have been used at the Cassia Memorial hospital.

Nine residents are regular users of gamma gobulin and 960 cubic centimeters have been used for shots in the last four months. It requires one pint of whole blood to make two cc's of gamma gobulin, Mrs. Malberg states.

The commercial cost of gamma gobulin is $3 per cc and the Red Cross provides it for $2, she adds.

She states that a colored 16-millimeter film, "Prescription to Life," is available up until Jan. 30 for groups wishing to see it. The film shows how blood is obtained and how it is used in different operations.

Scouter Confab Set for Rupert

RUPERT, Jan. 18—The regular monthly roundtable and district committee meeting for Scouters in the Minidoka district will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Washington school.

Owen McBride, district chairman, and Harold Carraway, district commissioner, announced committee assignments and plans for the 1961 program will be presented, and urge all Scouters to attend.

The possibility of a change in meeting dates will be discussed, McBride said, and department programs presented.

In the Cub Scout and Boy Scout leaders roundtables, activities will be presented for the observance of Scout week, Feb. 7 to 13, as well as other ideas for coming events in the district. Darwin Tyler and Otis Orton will be in charge of the two sections.

Officers will be elected for the district Explorer cabinet and McBride urges all Explorer posts to have two representatives present.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Stocks were higher at the close today with leading rails, electronics and special situations coring ubtantial gains.

Volume was active, the ticker running behind floor transactions several times during the session and at the final bell.

Baltimore and Ohio railroad, merger-bound with the C and O, rolled up about 6¼ points. The C and O scored for well over one. Other leading rails helped the Dow-Jones industrial average turn in another strong performance.

Electronic gainers ran up in Havog, Zenith and Texas Instruments. Kerr-McGee added more than two in the oils, Revlon more than two in the cosmetics, Hershey more than four in the foods, Polaroid over four in the photo stocks and DuPont around three in the chemicals.

Motor and steel stocks were generally firm, Ford ahead around a point. Gold shares eased off as much as a point in Homestake.

Other gainers running around two points were McGM, Certain-Teed, IBM, Universal Match, United Fruit, Piper Aircraft and Beckman Instruments.

State Parley on Safety Scheduled

BOISE, Jan. 18 — Plans for a state convention and traffic safety were discussed at an executive meeting here Saturday of the Idaho Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

The convention will be held June 1 through 4 at Idaho Falls.

"Your design for living," the National Traffic Safety council program theme, was stressed by Mrs. LaVern Strong, Twin Falls, safety chairman. Bumper stickers, a state project, were displayed. The fluorescent stickers use the initials of the club in the slogan "Buy protection with courtesy."

The board session was held after a legislative luncheon at the Owyhee hotel's Blue room honoring women holding elective offices in the statehouse. The luncheon is a BPW public relations project and is planned annually.

Four of U. S. Asia Friends Study Threat

MANILA, the Philippines, Jan. 18 (UPI)—The foreign ministers of four Asian allies of the United States today opened an unusual two-day meeting without their big western partner to discuss a common effort against the growing threat of communism in the Far East.

The meeting held by the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Nationalist China and the Republic of Korea—grew out of the explosive situation in Laos and fears that the United States might soften its attitude toward Communist China.

Moscow radio and Communist China's New China news agency denounced the conference as "a new tool of imperialist aggression" and "a part of the U. S. plots for military intervention in Laos."

All four nations have military defensive arrangements with the United States, although no U. S. government representatives were included in the meeting.

Foreign ministers Felixberto Serrano, the Philippiness; Shen Chang Huan, Nationalist China; Vu Van Mau, South Viet Nam, and Chung Il Hyung, the Republic of Korea, met behind closed doors in the national defense department in nearby Quezon City.

Grains

CHICAGO, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Soybean futures plummeted as much as eight cents a bushel in a wild final 15 minutes of trading today on the Chicago board of trade.

Rye lost more than a cent, while other grains were mixed.

Soybeans were off 3¼ to eight at the closing bell, wheat was off ½ to up ⅛, corn off ⅛ to up ⅞, oats off ⅛ to ⅛, rye off 1¼ to 1⅜ and drummed lard up 15 to 20 points.

The high-flying soybean market ran into heavy commission selling right from the opening bell. Prices rallied partially at mid-day before the final selloff. Meal and oil prices also declined.

Nearby wheat contracts eased in a mixed trade. Deferred contracts held on fractions. Some selling stemmed from a report that the United Arab Republic took 746,000 bushels of western wheat but no red wheat. Traders believed the UAR's authorization to buy red wheat may be switched to hard.

Export circles reported Pakistan purchased 4,480,000 bushels of hard and white wheat. Britain and Europe reportedly took 800,000 bushels of corn.

Corn trade was light and mixed. Northwest and export interests bought. Corn was old on spreads with wheat and rye.

Export subsidies were granted on 1.9 million bushels of corn, 1,475,000 bushels of oats and 20,000 bushels of rye.

Oats steadied after an early decline as cash houses bought. Commission dealings were mixed.

Cash house sales and stop orders weakened rye futures.

Outside markets were mostly lower.

Chamber Aide Talks at T. F. Lions' Lunch

Communications between the Chamber of Commerce and Twin Falls citizens, public attitudes and industrial expansion were topics of William Grange for Twin Falls Lions club members at their noon meeting Wednesday in the Roundup room of the Rogerson hotel.

Grange's talk took in problems of industrial expansion in this area and other communities. He spoke on the historical background in this field in the Twin Falls area.

"Industrial expansion is one of the more glamorous jobs in the Chamber of Commerce," Grange said. "One of the weakest links in communication between the chamber and the people is letting them know what is going on," he said.

Grange said, in the field of industrial expansion, Twin Falls is "healthy and well, and doing a far better job than the majority of communities of this size."

He said most expansion will come from within the community. It is here that the chamber falls down, he noted. It fails to let the people know the extent of this inner-development.

Community attitudes are studied by incoming industries, Grange said. A simulating, self-confident attitude on the future of a community attracts and he indicated Twin Falls has such an attitude.

Guests were Barney Gallagher, San Francisco, William Wilson, Twin Falls, and Bruce Pickett, Boise.

Moisture for Higher Areas Is Below '60

Hodges Is OK'd As Kennedy Aide

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (UPI) — Former North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges today won unanimous approval by the senate commerce committee to be secretary of commerce in the Kennedy administration.

The committee vote was 17 to 0 for the 62-year-old Hodges, who will be the oldest member of President-Elect John F. Kennedy's cabinet.

The action came after Hodges faced a barrage of questioning by committee members during nomination hearings about his stand on a variety of subjects ranging from world trade to commuter train service problems.

2 Missing Girls Found in Nevada

JEROME, Jan. 18 — Two Eden girls, reported missing at 2 p.m. Sunday, were picked up six miles south of Wells, Nev., by port of entry officers at 11:30 a.m. Monday, Jerome officers reported today.

Cheryl Gardner, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gardner, and Diane Nickerson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nickerson, all Eden, were in a 1961 Ford Falcon owned by Miss Gardner's father.

Police Chief Fred Abrams gave Miss Gardner a citation for going 34 miles per hour in a 25-mile zone Sunday afternoon. Officers wondered if this could have been the cause for the girls' disappearance, but their parents said they were worried about the girls' safety.

Lower Germ Count Shown In Canal Test

the water after the filter plant treatment to kill any bacteria that may be left in the water, Harvey stated.

The most recent test taken at the filter plant was Tuesday, Jan. 10, which showed 20 most probable number of bacteria to 100 milliliters of water. This sample is the only one taken after Rock creek water began flowing in the high-line and lowline canals.

The last sample taken at the filter plant before the new supply showed 210 most probable number per 100 milliliters. This was on Jan. 3.

Harvey explained that the most probable number count is a standard method accepted by authorities to determine an accurate bacteria count in streams. The count is computed from a probability table.

Other samples taken at the filter plant showed 1,410 mpn/100, Dec. 15; 350 mpn 100, Dec. 16; 790 mpn/100, Dec. 19; 1,300 mpn/100, Dec. 21, and 2,210 mpn/100, Dec. 27.

A recent sample taken at the outlet of a sewage treatment area of one of the processing plants in the Burley area showed a bacteria count of more than 54,200,000 per 100 milliliters. This sample was taken Jan. 12.

Another sample taken at the same place Jan. 3 showed 21,200,000 bacteria count per 100 milliliters. At this time water in the Snake river was cut from 700 cubic feet per second to 350 cubic feet per second, Harvey noted.

Samples taken before the water reduction included one taken Dec. 16 below Milner dam reservoir which showed a count of 560,000 per 100 milliliters; Dec. 20 downstream from one of the potato processing plants, more than 542,000 mpn per 100 milliliters, and Dec. 28 downstream from a potato processing plant, 3,480,000 mpn per 100 milliliters.

Another sample taken the latter part of December downstream from another industry in the Burley-Rupert area showed a bacteria count of 5,420,000 per milliliters.

Harvey noted that bacteria count in raw river water must be below 5,000 mpn per 100 milliliters to be acceptable for treatment in a filter plant similar to the Twin Falls filter plant. Bacteria count in lake water must be below 2,000 mpn per 100 milliliters.

Hay Missing

Someone apparently removed about 40 bales of hay from a borrow pit three miles east of Hansen on highway 30 sometime Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning without being detected, the Twin Falls sheriff's office reported Wednesday.

The hay had fallen from a truck owned by Richard Shouse, Hazelton Tuesday. He piled the hay in the borrow pit. When he returned Wednesday morning it was missing.

The first basic patents to make "artificial leather" date back to 1855.

Writer Hunts War in Laos, Reason for It

By CHARLES R. SMITH

BAN PHONG HONG VILLAGE, Laos, Jan. 18 (UPI) — The dense, steaming Laotian jungle is definitely no place for a foreign correspondent to report on a war.

The food is bad, the water is muddy, the transportation is archaic and the communications are impossible.

Last week I had a hard time finding the war. This week I had an even more difficult assignment —trying to locate someone who knew what the war was about.

The most startling fact about the war in Laos is that the average Laotian has no idea what the fighting in his country is all about —and couldn't care less.

The only thing he wants is for the fighting to stop and to be left alone to live a quiet, peaceful life.

I stopped to talk to Laotians in at least a score of villages in the combat zone and got the same answers.

Not one of the 40 to 50 villagers I interviewed here knew what the fighting was about. In fact, few even knew who was fighting. When I asked them if they knew what the Pathet Lao is, most just raised their heads and asked, "Who?"

Shorter Week Suggested to Start Upturn

CHICAGO, Jan. 18 (AP)—A five-point attack on unemployment—including a 32-hour work week—was proposed last night by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers union. He contended its adoption by congress would trigger an immediate economic upturn.

The plan was presented at a testimonial dinner for Arthur P. Goldberg, secretary-designate of labor for the incoming Democratic administration.

McDonald proposed minimum hourly wages of $1.25; federal jobless pay standards, earlier retirement under social security, standard 32-hour work week and a national commission on continuing prosperity.

He termed cutting the work week without a proportionate cut in pay "our best long-term hope of reducing unemployment." He said it also would help absorb the shock of human displacement caused by automation.

McDonald said the recession idled 125,000 members of his union and resulted in shortened work weeks for most of the others.

Idaho's 1960 Voting Totals Top for U. S.

BOISE, Jan. 18 (UPI)—Idaho's record in the Nov. 8 presidential election topped all other states in percentage of voters that went to the polls, the American Heritage foundation says.

The national average was 64.3 per cent of the eligible voting population. Idaho's figure was 80.7. Closest to the Gem state record was New Hampshire with 80.5 per cent.

Brendan Byrne, executive director of the foundation, said that states with the most up-to-date election laws achieved the highest percentage.

He also pointed out that the percentages were a strong argument in favor of reforming electoral laws and making it easier for persons to vote.

Rockefeller's Son Arrested For Speeding

BERLIN, Conn., Jan. 18 (AP)—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's son Michael, 22, was arrested on a reckless driving charge Sunday night by state police, it was disclosed yesterday.

The youngest son of Rockefeller was picked up on the Berlin turnpike by a trooper who said the youth was driving 60 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone during a snowstorm.

The trooper said he chased young Rockefeller for half a mile, but the youth was very polite when he caught up with him.

"He definitely wasn't intoxicated," added Trooper George Bathgate.

Rockefeller was released after about an hour when his family wired $100 bond to the police. He must appear in court here on Feb. 2 or forfeit the bond.

Michael paid a $20 fine for speeding last September near Gray, Me.

Washington Asking More Fair Money

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 18 (AP) — Washington lawmakers will be asked to provide an additional 1.5 to three million dollars for Century 21, scheduled to open in Seattle next year.

Legislators, who declined to be identified, said they will introduce a bill authorizing the additional expenditure as soon as a decision is reached on how much will be needed.

If the additional money is provided, it will boost the amount of public fund support for the big show to nearly 30 million dollars.

The 1957 legislature authorized issuance of 7.5 million dollars in bonds to finance plans, surveys, site acquisition and development and construction and equipping of buildings.

The same legislature doubled corporation fees and earmarked the increase for retirement of the bond issue.

Ray Berlin of the state's central budget agency said income from the corporation tax boost would be sufficient to support an additional three million dollar bond issue if the legislature should authorize it.

Cause of Fire In Hotel Is "Accidental"

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (UPI)—The Thomas hotel fire which killed 20 persons was "accidentally set by a person or persons unknown," according to a coroner's jury.

After hearing two and one-half hours of testimony from a half-dozen witnesses yesterday the jury was unable to reach a definite conclusion.

Book Closed.

Their decision presumably closes the book on the Jan. 6 fire at the Mission street hotel. It also permanently freed Raymond Gorman, the pensioner who had been generally suspected of starting the blaze with an inadvertently dropped cigaret in his first-room floor.

Much of yesterday's inquest before the nine-man jury was an attempt to nail down the identity of the "strange woman" in Gorman's room in the hours before the fire broke out.

Gorman remembered her only as "Leslie," and cab driver Joseph Louthian, who also visited Gorman in his room shortly before the fire, testified that she was intoxicated but said he could not remember her name.

She Was "Chain Smoker"

Since Gorman described her as "a regular chain smoker," and Louthian said she was "about half awake," the possibility was raised that she might have started the fire with a careless cigaret.

The jury did recommend city legislation to prevent another holocaust and suggested that some owners of older buildings would voluntarily provide safety measures "as a matter of conscience" if properly guided by the fire department.

VOTING PLAN SUPPORTED

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP) — New York is the fourth state to ratify a proposed amendment to the U. S. constitution to permit residents of the District of Columbia to vote in presidential elections.

Steel Probe's Advice Is for U. S. to Relax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP) — A government task force assigned to study the steel industry's labor troubles came up today with one word of advice to the nation—relax.

The whole problem and its effects on the national economy are highly exaggerated, according to the surprising findings submitted by a staff headed by Prof. E. Robert Livernash of the Harvard graduate school of business.

Conclusions Listed

Here are some of the task force's conclusions:

1. Actual adverse effects of steel strikes have not been of serious magnitude.

2. Neither have steel wage or price changes been serious in terms of the over-all economy, or in influencing other price and wage levels.

3. Little can be gained from changing the labor laws for dealing with national emergency strikes. Existing economic pressures are more effective persuaders. If the government has to get into a steel dispute, it should be on an informal basis at "truly critical stages."

Advance Plans Suggested

4. Serious consideration should be given to advance arrangements so that in any future steel strike a few mills would be operated to insure enough steel for national defense needs.

The quicker everybody realizes how the steel labor problem has been exaggerated in the public mind, the study suggests, less attention will be paid the periodic steel labor bargaining, and probably few strikes will ensue.

Nixon Turns To Humor in Final Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon added a touch of humor to his farewell appearance yesterday as presiding officer of the senate.

He announced he is presenting to the chamber two three-minute sand glasses that will enable his successor, Lyndon B. Johnson, to keep accurate time on speakers.

The senate has a three-minute rule for speakers during what is called the "morning hour."

In dead-pan fashion, Nixon told his colleagues a major problem of the presiding officer is to enforce the three-minute rule. He said he explored the situation and purchased not one, but two three-minute glasses. In case one senator does not use all of his three minutes, he said, the second glass can come into play to insure that the succeeding speaker gets his full three minutes.

Charles L. Watkins, the senate's veteran parliamentarian, told newsmen that when he first came to the senate in 1904, two five-minute hour glasses were in use to time members. He said he doubted if hour glasses have been used in the senate in more than 50 years.

SOLDIER DIES

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP) —Sgt. Martin Maher, 84, who served as soldier and civilian more than 60 years at the U. S. Military academy and was a close friend of many top military leaders, died yesterday after a long illness.

Inaugural Parade Practiced; Two Sections Added for Ball

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The "old guard" marched along the "new frontier" yesterday in a test run—late starting, of course—of Friday's gigantic inaugural parade.

And the inaugural committee caved into pressure and added two more sections to the inaugural ball.

This last switch set off a frenzied reshuffling of schedules.

The parade and ball are key events of the great day when John F. Kennedy puts his hand on a Bible, takes the oath as America's 35th president, and puts a new administration on the rail to what he calls the new frontiers of the 1960's.

The weatherman sounded cooperative about the big day. Generally fair and a little warmer is the outlook, but there's just a chance of some dampness.

The inaugural committee zealously papered the country with invitations to the inaugural ball and found itself entangled in the results of its own enthusiasm. Too many customers, even at $25 a ticket, for the space available.

So a ball which started out in the national guard armory expanded to the Sheraton Park hotel, then the Mayflower, and now to the Statler Hilton and the Shoreham.

This should take care of an extra few thousand people who are eager to waltz, quaff champagne, and wait for the arrival of the new president and first lady and Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson togged out in formal finery for a dazzling event.

But the time table is being rejiggered frantically because the committee that once promised the Kennedys and Johnsons would divide their time equally among three places now is faced with the problem of dividing their time five ways instead of three.

The dry run of the parade was dry, all right, and precise. It was just the first section, the presidential section of the parade, but without any of the principals, naturally. A "V" of motorcycle police started it off. The army band took part. The massed presidential colors, and those of all the states, were borne majestically along the full 2½-mile route.

And the army's "old guard fife and drum corps" swung along, beating and tootling, in bright red continental uniforms.

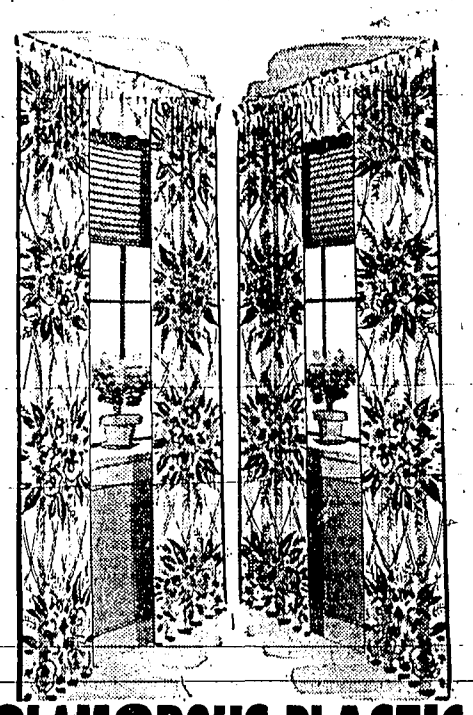

Everything went off beautifully except the start was 15 minutes late, somewhat in keeping with a discernible tendency of the incoming president not to adhere to a too rigid schedule.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Children should do a great deal of their reading for the sheer pleasure of the story because this is what forms the habit of reading. We all do what gives us pleasure far more willingly than we do what we know is our duty. Fairy tales, comics, when they are decent, riddles, good stories, are beginning reading for all children and they should be given them generously. I think that if the school program allowed for it, a period of reading just for the fun of it would be wonderful. But there is no time for that in our crowded schedules.

Once the time for learning to read is well used, the time comes for reading to learn and it is here that we so often fail the children. The child in junior high school has not quite acquired the habit of reading for pleasure in his leisure time and certainly he has not done so for informative reading. Asking such a child, unless he is most unusual, to read a book on some scientific subject will meet with scant enthusiasm. "I get enough of that in school," he will say, and justly.

But he should have a book that offers some meat to his mind and give him an idea for his personal use, an idea that may stimulate him to take on a purpose in life. For this I suggest a biography, a story about the life of some famous man or woman who did something for the benefit of people. The pioneers in medicine, science, politics, education.

A story about Joan of Arc, Washington, Lincoln, Pasteur, Madame Curie, Susan B. Anthony, Nurse Cavell, Edison, Longfellow, Sandburg, any story about someone who did something to move mankind forward on the road to a better way of life.

All children, young or older, love stories about people in action. They need such stories to give them ideas about what people can do and they being people, can do in their turn. Where to get such books? Every publishing house has a list of books for children, for young readers and it can be had for a postage stamp. The library and the librarian are not used by as many people as might be. A world of information is housed in that familiar building, familiar on the outside far more than it is on the inside. Do use it, do visit the bookshop, and do get a good biography for junior high and the senior high school students. You can't tell what it may spark off in that young reader.

Twin Falls Racks up 18th Straight "at Home" Win By Topping Tigers 62-47

The Twin Falls Bruins racked up a record-breaking 18th straight homecourt victory Tuesday night as they handled the Jerome Tigers 62-47. The victory, which ends the Bruins non-conference streak, was the ninth for the year against two losses. It also maintained the Twin Falls class of 1961's boast of never being defeated in district play from the seventh grade up. And for Bruin coach Ollie Butler, it kept intact his record of never having a Twin Falls squad beaten on the home floor. Two of the homecourt wins came before Butler was hired as coach.

Except for these sidelights, the game provided little excitement. The Bruins rushed away to a 12-point lead in the second quarter, pushed that to a 43-20 count in the third period and threw in the junior unit for the fourth period.

Charmin' Chick Cutler was the big gun as the Bruins sacked this one up rather early. He ended the night with 15 points, 11 of them in the first half.

It was another cool night for the Tigers, who so far haven't been able to connect with any percentage this season.

They hung close in the early going, the Bruins not pulling away until midway through the second period after Jerome had erased a six-point deficit to narrow the count at 15-13. Then Cutler hit six straight points and the Bruins weren't threatened thereafter.

Excitement of the night came in the preliminary when Jan Blamires hit two free throws with 28 seconds left and Jerome nipped Twin Falls 50-49. Blamires' effort erased a personal eight-point, two-minute spree by John Kelker that had pulled the Junior Bruins from six points behind into the lead.

Other officers are Bob Pettygrove, vice president; Nelson Jarvis, treasurer, and Lud Drexler, secretary. Jarvis and Larry Drexler were named to the board of directors along with incumbent Paul Thoman.

The group laid plans for the annual membership drive, which will begin immediately. In addition to salesmen, memberships will be available through license vendors upon request.

It was pointed out the association owned Twin Falls fish hatchery, has produced 35,000,000 trout since it went into full scale operation in 1927. The majority of these fish have been planted in Owyhee, Cassia and Twin Falls counties. Annual operational expense of the plant is $7,300.

The association's first major project for the year will be guiding the fish and game committee of the Idaho legislature through this area to acquaint them with various problems and the availability of recreational and fishing areas.

Drexler said the primary aim of the tour for which no date has yet been set, would be to get state action in opening access to various public lands and streams throughout South Central Idaho.

Brick's Hikes Pistol Win Skein

Brick's Gun Shop continued to run undefeated through the Twin Falls Pistol club's intra-club series Tuesday night.

Brick's beat State Hardware 1,033 to 852 while state police dumped army reserves 1,062 to 1,027.

Individual scores include Brick's, Dick Pooler 268, Larry Culver 261, Larry Shappart 260 and Bert Bays 244; State Hardware, John Weston 272, Marie Herrett 228, Walt Baltzer 22, and Betty Ross 130; army reserve, M. J. Bays, jr., 274, Joe Malberg 257, W. Perkins 250 and Dick Parmeter 246, and state police, Jim Gerke and Clark Hand, both 269, S. D. Lueckert 264 and Dick Burns 260.

New York Sure to Get New Stadium

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mahor Wagner said Tuesday there is no doubt that New York will have a new 55,000-seat stadium in Flushing Meadow park in time for the new National league team in 1962.

The mayor's optimism was not reflected, however, by Lawrence Gerosa, comptroller. Gerosa said he still has reservations on financial details and observed that if construction had started last fall "they would have had to work overtime to finish it in time for the 1962 season."

It has been estimated that the actual construction cost will be $15 million and that architectural and engineering costs will add $1.2 million.

LOSES THIRD IN ROW

PORTLAND, Jan. 18 (AP)—Willamette dropped its third straight Northwest conference basketball game Tuesday night as Lewis and Clark came from behind for a 63-60 victory.

Southside League Is Unchanged for Week

Nearly everything remained the same in the Southside conference last week with half the six teams staying unbeaten and the other half still looking for that first win. Castleford's Wolves continued to go undefeated for the season, the only team in the district to hold that boast. And the Wolves' top gun, Willie Derie, maintained his district leading sharpshooting, although his point production tailed off.

Derie, who is belting along with a 20.8 average for the season, is atop the conference race, too, with a 17.5 average. He also has the most free throws in the conference—11—but Larry Wardle, who blazed for 23 points in his last outing, has the most charity tosses this season—37.

After falling far off pace with just two points in his first effort, Wardle has climbed back to a 12.5 average, fourth best in the conference. The Declo senior also has a 17.4 overall mark.

Moving into second place this week was Hansen senior George Urie, who checks in with a 15 even average in loop and 13.7 overall. Reynolds, Castleford, is 13 even in loop play while his temmate, Darwin Allred, has 10 even.

Although twice beaten, Murtaugh's Red Devils have two of the top eight gunners in the league in Dick Morgan, 10.5 and 12.3, and Jim Lemon, 12 and 10.3. Rounding out the list, is Hagerman senior Mike Mason, who is 13.5 and 12.7.

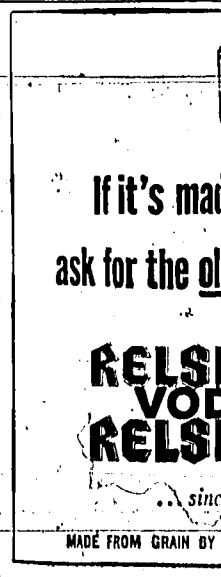

Other individual statistics show Gerald Prince, Hagerman, leading with 33 fouls for the season. Several men had nine fouls to tie for the conference pace.

The team statistics also indicate why Castleford is undefeated. Coach Jay Waite's crew is averaging 68 points per conference game and 57.9 for the year. The Wolves' season defensive mark of 43.6 also is a conference pacesetter. Hagerman and Declo have held their two loop opponents to 38 points per outing to wrest the fourth lead from the Wolves.

Raft River, trying to straighten out a year of disciplinary troubles, came up with one team division lead. The young Trojans have a .764 free throw shooting percentage in league and are .659 for the year. Percentages are based on free throws to opponent fouls.

Murtaugh and Castleford are battling for the most fouls per game with Murtaugh currently holding the edge. The Red Devils have committed 23 fouls per loop game against 21.5 for Castleford and are 21 to 20.3 for the season.

NFL Is Winning War With AFL In Signing Top College Players

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (UPI)—The National Football league is winning the war with the young American league over the signing of the best college players for next season, a United Press International survey showed today. Although the opportunities for making the grade appear to be better in the AFL, the leading college stars, by a ratio of more than two to one have indicated they would rather risk their pro playing chances in the tougher-to-make NFL. NFL clubs have signed 33 of their leading 49 draft picks, according to the UPI survey; AFL clubs have announced the signing of only 10 of their top 31 choices. Seventeen of these AFL draftees already have signed with NFL clubs and one has gone to Canada (All-America guard Tom Brown of Minnesota).

So far, nine of the 13 NFL teams have signed their No. 1 pick. Not one NFL team has lost a first draft choice to either the AFL or the Canadian league. Four other NFL top choices cannot sign a pro contract because they have eligibility remaining in other college sports.

In contrast, only two of the eight AFL teams have signed their top draft picks. These are All-America center E. J. Holub of Texas Tech, signed by the Dallas Texans, and end Earl Faison of Indiana, signed by the Los Angeles Chargers.

Holub also was the second draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys in the NFL and Faison was the No. 5 pick of the Detroit Lions.

Besides Holub and Faison, the only two college stars who so far have preferred the younger league to the NFL were Fred Arbanas of Michigan State and Stew Barber of Penn State. Arbanas, signed by the Texans, was the No. 2 choice of the St. Louis Cardinals; Barber, who cast his lot with the Buffalo Bills, was the No. 3 pick of the NFL Dallas Cowboys.

In analyzing the NFL signings, it should be pointed out that each club in the older league was reasonably certain of corraling its No. 1 pick at the time of the draft.

During the NFL draft meeting last month, before selecting a player, each club telephoned him to determine whether he was committed to an AFL or a Canadian team. If so, the NFL shied away from him.

American Football league clubs drafted in November, before they had any indication whether they could sign their preferences.

Most of them thus gambled and lost. The Denver Broncos and New York Titans have not announced the signing of any of their first five draft picks; the Boston Patriots have managed to sign only their No. four selection.

Of the five players who were made the first draft choice of clubs in both leagues, four already have signed with the NFL.

These were: Mike Ditka of Pitt, who chose the Chicago Bears over the Houston Oilers; Joe Rutgens of Illinois, Washington Redskins over Oakland; Bob Gaiters of New Mexico State, New York Giants over Denver; and Tommy Mason of Tulane, whose signing has not been announced yet but is known to have chosen the new Minnesota Vikings over Boston.

Ken Rice of Auburn has eligibility remaining in another sport and thus cannot turn pro until June. Pro football men feel he will join the Buffalo Bills rather than the St. Louis Cards.

Other No. 1 NFL draft choices already signed are: Herb Adderley of Michigan State, Green Bay Packers; Tom Matte, Ohio State, Baltimore Colts; Bob Lilly, Texas Christian, Dallas Cowboys; Bob Respino, Mississippi, Cleveland Browns; and Myron Pottios, Notre Dame, Pittsburgh Steelers.

The most successful NFL clubs in signing draft picks have been the Packers, Giants, Redskins and San Francisco Forty-Niners. Green Bay has signed its top three draft picks; Washington five of its first seven; New York four of its first five, and San Francisco three of its first four.

In the AFL, the Los Angeles Chargers have signed their first two picks and have announced they have eight of their first 11 choices under contract. Buffalo has signed three of its first six selections, while Dallas and Houston each has two of its first three choices.

So far, there have been only two cases reported of "dual signings," whereby a collegian signs with a team in each league. Tackle Dick Mills of Pitt and Fullback Ron Hartline of Oklahoma are alleged to have signed with both the NFL Lions and the Dallas Texans.

Last season, the AFL clubs won court tests of such cases involving Billy Cannon and Johnny Robinson of LSU and Charlie Flowers of Mississippi.

Ballantyne, Mattis Pace Idaho Victory

LEWISTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Classy guards Tom Ballantyne, Twin Falls, and Bill Mattis, Coeur d'Alene, led the way here Tuesday night as the Idaho frosh trounced Lewis-Clark Normal 89-60.

Idaho led 46-23 at the half.

Ballantyne got in scoring position with his sharp ball handling and his ability to feign and take passes. Mattis was deadly with a jump shot from 15-20 feet.

Ballantyne hit for 16 to share scoring honors for the Vandal frosh with Fred Crowell. Mattis had 15.

Idaho 89—Ballantyne 16, Mattis 15, Penney 3, Whitfield 10, Scheel 7, Cleary 2, Crowell 16, Gustavel 3, Meyer 11, Ross.

LCN 60—Anderson 4, Olson 11, Nelson 10, Hawlsey 17, Kamppi 3, Judd 2, Wheeler 2, Howell 3, Vann 8.

College of Idaho Drops Ring Sport

By The Associated Press

The College of Idaho at Caldwell announced Tuesday it was dropping intercollegiate boxing as a major sport.

And in Pocatello, Idaho State college confirmed it, too, had dropped boxing.

The end to boxing came to the College of Idaho as a result of a general decline in the sport since 1955, since C of I coach Vic Buccola. College of Idaho has been participating in the ring sport without interruption since 1954-55 when Eddie Troxel was coach.

Idaho State was NCAA champ in 1953 and 1957.

The Coyotes had four dual meets planned this year but will cancel these out, Buccola said.

Holt said ISC would still honor scholarships given for boxing and several athletes would work out to keep in shape for the national AAU boxing tournament scheduled in Pocatello April 6-8.

Holt said, "It has been increasingly hard to schedule meets and we have decided to cancel out our schedule. If we get a chance to meet someone on a limited basis we might do it."

College of Idaho had one national champ in the 1960 tournament held in Madison, Wis. He was Heiji Shimabukuro in the 112-pound division.

The death of Wisconsin boxer Charles Mohr in the NCAA tourney last year triggered several colleges into announcing the end of the sport.

Tulsa Declaims Grid Emphasis

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 18 (AP)—University of Tulsa athletic director Glenn Dobbs called "entirely untrue" Tuesday a published report his school might leave the Missouri Valley conference unless the conference adds members emphasizing football.

A news story from Kansas City, not carried by The Associated Press, predicted the conference is in for a shakeup in the spring.

Elias Accepts Coaching Job At Virginia

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Jan. 18 (AP)—Bill Elias, the cocky young midwesterner who transformed George Washington from a football doormat to a winner in one year, was tapped Tuesday to try to do the same for the University of Virginia.

The official announcement of one of the past week's worst kept secrets was made by Dr. Edgar F. Shannon, jr., university president, at a meeting of the Virginia football squad.

George Washington several hours earlier had announced the resignation of Elias, named Southern conference coach of the year last fall, to accept the post at Virginia, a member of the Atlantic Coast conference.

Elias was not offered the athletic directorship at Virginia, a job that will became vacant next year.

The university and Elias did not sign a formal contract, instead putting his tenure on a year-to-year basis as was the case during Frank Murray's nine years and most of Art Guepe's seven years as coach at Virginia.

Dr. Shannon made this point in his statement when he said, that because the university feels Elias "can develop, lead and sustain a football program which is fitting for the university, his appointment is without a terminal date."

The 36-year-old Elias, a high school coach in Indiana and an assistant at Purdue before his one-year term at George Washington, inherits a team that has lost its last 28 games and tied the national major college record for consecutive defeats.

Athletic Hurler Has Broken Hand

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18 (AP)—Dick Hall, Kansas City Athletics right-hander, has suffered a fracture of his right hand playing basketball.

General manager Frank Lane said Hall was injured about a week ago at Salt Lake City, where he lives and will be put on the disabled list if he can't report on time for spring training Feb. 20.

"He had no business playing basketball in the first place," Lane said. "It's one of the most dangerous of all sports for a baseball player and he must have been in a scrimmage to break his hand. There's no excuse for it."

In Salt Lake City Hall said he had been playing basketball now and then to keep in shape. "I was turning, starting to jump to get off a shot when I jammed my hand into the back of one of the other players. I broke the middle bone in my right hand, but I expect it to be healed in six weeks and to be at spring training when camp opens."

Pro Hoop League Adds Pittsburgh, Chicago Clubs

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The National Basketball association expanded to 10 clubs Tuesday night with the addition of Chicago and Pittsburgh to become effective with the 1961-62 season. Maurice Podoloff, NBA president, said Chicago had met requirements earlier in the day, and that final details had been worked out during the evening on the admission of Pittsburgh.

Chicago already has paid one third of the $200,000 franchise fee, and Podoloff said Pittsburgh interests had guaranteed a one-third payment next week.

The NBA president will go to Pittsburgh Monday to sign an agreement with representatives, headed by John Harris. Both new teams, Podoloff said, have agreed to pay the balance of the fee by March 15.

Pittsburgh will place its home games in the Civic auditorium with a seating capacity of about 15,000 for basketball.

Each of the eight teams now in the league will put up four players for Chicago and Pittsburgh to draw from. Pittsburgh and Chicago can buy no more than two players from each of the present league teams. No purchase price has been agreed upon.

In Pittsburgh, Harris said that all arrangements for the Pittsburgh franchise have been made, including the selection of Boston player Bill Sharman as coach. Harris said owner Walter Brown of the Boston Celtics had agreed to release Sharman.

"Los Angeles had tried to get Sharman but Brown wouldn't let him go," Harris said. "We are fortunate to get a man of his stature for Pittsburgh."

Harris said the $200,000 franchise fee had nothing to do with Tuesday's talks with Podoloff.

"There were some things brought up at the meeting which hadn't been mentioned before," Harris said. "These had to be straightened out before we could go ahead with final negotiations for membership."

Baylor Shines as West All-Stars Beat East 153-131

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP) — Elgin Baylor hustled out of a sick bed and helped by Oscar Robertson, Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette led a first quarter drive Tuesday night that carried an underdog West team to a record-breaking 153-131 victory over the East in the National Basketball association all-star game. A standing room crowd of 8,016 in War memorial auditorium saw Baylor, bedded with a fever earlier in the day, launch a furious early assault that buried the East with a steady succession of fast breaks resulting in easy baskets for the West. The West's 153 points topped the previous mark of 130 set by the East in 1958.

In winning it's fourth of 11 all-star games, the West scored a record 47 points in the first quarter, taking a 28-point lead and breaking the mark of 38 points set by the East two years ago.

Baylor, the Los Angeles star, sank a layup and a free throw in the second minute, giving the West a 5-2 lead, and the East trailed the rest of the way. Baylor scored four more points in the next two minutes as the West ran up an 11-4 lead. Robertson, the ace rookie from Cincinnati, and veterans Pettit and Lovellette from the St. Louis Hawks, took up the attack that didn't give the favored East a chance. In the first quarter alone, Robertson scored 13 points, Pettit nine, Lovellette eight and Baylor seven.

Wilt Chamberlain, league scoring leader of the Philadelphia Warriors, was so harrassed by Lovellette's glove - tight defense that he scored only 12 points, and was held without a field goal until the fourth quarter. He wound up with two field goals and eight free throws.

Pettit was the game's leading scorer with 29 points while Robertson, voted the most valuable player, had 23. Lovellette had 21. Baylor was withdrawn from the game after eight minutes and was used intermittently, winding up with 15 points.

Bill Russell of Boston, who did not enter the game until the second quarter, topped the East with 24 points. Dolph Schayes of Syracuse had 21.

Group Buys Control of Houston Club

HOUSTON, Jan. 18 (AP) — The Houston Sports association, holders of a National league baseball franchise for Houston in 1962, Tuesday night bought the Houston Buffs of the American association.

The purchase price was not disclosed.

By obtaining territorial rights, the Sports association removed one of two problems it faced in preparing for Houston's entry into the major leagues.

Harris county residents are to vote a second time Jan. 31 on a proposal to finance the $22 million sports stadium with tax bonds.

The purchase agreement, signed by Craig Cullinan, jr., president of the HSA, and W. H. (Bill) Hopkins, president of the Buffs, said the HSA will operate the club in the class AAA league in 1961.

The agreement was worked out at a meeting between the HSA and the Buffs.

The two groups had been at odds over ownership of the club for more than a year, during which time the HSA had a franchise in the defunct Continental league but didn't have baseball fans in Houston.

Johansson Ready for Third Title Match

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—Newly arrived Ingemar Johansson, uncertain whether he was "doped" or merely dopey last June, said today he would prevent the recurrence of either handicap in his third title fight with champion Floyd Patterson at Miami Beach, March 13.

His mother Hebba will personally do the cooking at his training camp this time to prevent any possible tampering with his food, he explained.

And he will make changes in his training routine to step up his speed and alertness, he assured.

Swedish Ingo, the ex-heavyweight champion who arrived by plane from his home in Switzerland Monday night, came face to face last night with Patterson, the man Ingo's knocked out "1,000 times" mentally since their second fight last June 20.

Patterson, 26, received the Edward J. Neill memorial plaque for "the fighter of the year" at the annual dinner of the Boxing Writers' association in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

Ingemar, 28, said at his hotel today he plans to go to Miami beach later this week and pick a camp, so that he can start serious training as soon as possible.

Answering reporters' questions about reports he had been doped before last year's knockout defeat, he replied:

"Dope?—all I can say I was feeling pretty good in the fight But I guess if you're doped you feel pretty good. I lost six pounds the night before the fight, but I slept real good. But looking at the films of the fight, I thought I looked funny. And I wonder why I catch that long left hook on my chin. I never catch punch like that before."

He also was puzzled by his failure to capitalize on his advantage in the second round when he halfstunned Patterson with a right to the chin—"unless I think maybe he's trapping me."

The brown-haired, fair-skinned ex-champ in the dark blue business suit said he hoped to scale at least 198 pounds or possibly 200 for the third fight, instead of the 194½ he registered last June.

To speed up his reflexes, he is bringing over light heavyweight Pekka Kokkonen from Finland. "Pekka is very fast," he explained, "and has a style something like Patterson. He be very good sparmate."

At the end of every sparring session, he will work an additional round with some American middleweight for additional speed, he said.

He hopes to win by an early knockout this time, he continued, although he can not name the round. "Every day, in my mind, I am knocking him out," he added, "I've knocked him out 1,000 times and my right hand does it without me even thinkin' about it. But I never know the round."

He has already done two months of preliminary training in Switzerland, he said. He has been sparring for three weeks—six or seven rounds a day.

If he recaptures the title, there will be no fourth bout. There's no return-bout contract. "It can't go on forever," he concluded.

Washington May Endorse Fish Haven

OLYMPIA, Jan. 18 (AP) — The Washington legislature will be asked to endorse a federal proposal to set aside Idaho's Salmon river for a fish sanctuary, the president of the Washington state sportsmen's council said Tuesday.

Jim Walganski said his organization will urge the state lawmakers to memorialize congress to pass a bill that would ban construction of dams on the Salmon river that would block migrating fish.

The bill, now before the U. S. senate, would also prevent construction of the proposed Nez Perce dam on the Snake river by prohibiting dams higher than 100 feet on the Snake downstream from the mouth of the Salmon.

The two rivers converge about 50 miles upstream from Lewiston Idaho.

Similar memorials will be sought in the Oregon and Idaho legislatures by the Oregon and Idaho Wildlife Federations, Walganski said.

Anderson, Valdez Take Mat Victory

Ox Anderson and Poncho Valdez dropped Chief Kit Fox and Bill Melby in two straight falls Tuesday night and immediately claimed the Intermountain tag team wrestling title.

However, their claims fell on deaf ears as the losing duo's title was not on the line.

In the semi-final, Al Pago Pago came back with two straight falls to defeat newcomer Jack LaRue. LaRue took the first fall with a back breaker but Pago Pago wrapped it up with Japanese arm bars.

In the preliminary, Bill Lewis and Wayne (Red) Kinney, both Twin Falls, grappled to a draw.

Bunetta Tops Qualifying in Bowling Meet

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Jan. 18 (AP)—Bill Bunetta of Chicago won the qualifying trophy in the $68,000 All Star bowling tournament Tuesday with a 36-game total of 7,809, second highest in the history of the tourney.

The easy going star was 97 pins short of cracking the 7,906 qualifying mark set by Ray Bluth of St. Louis in 1960.

Bunetta completed the preliminaries with a 1,254 six-game series in the semifinals.

Bunetta's final thrust pushed Earl Johnson, also of Chicago, into second place. Johnson had a precarious grip on the lead during the first half of the semifinal block with 7,699.

Bunetta and the 15 next highest scores from the 96-man semifinals field form the round robin finals field.

Don Carter, four-time All Star titlist from St. Louis, failed to make the finals for the first time in nine years.

Other important St. Louis casualties included defending champion Harry Smith and Bill Lillard, who Monday rolled a 300 game.

Dick Weber and Ray Bluth, avoided the cutoff. The only other top ranking bowlers to survive were former champion Bill Welu of St. Louis, Lou Frantz of Louisville and Joe Joseph and Ed Lubanski of Detroit.

The balance of the field, although it contains some former all star finalists, is largely composed of unknowns.

Ken Bro of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho was not among the 15 qualifiers.

Vilhauer Paces Minico Past Filer 44-31

FILER, Jan. 18 — Senior guard Merlin Vilhauer cranked through 20 points in the last half Tuesday night to lead the Minico Spartans to a 44-31 decision over the Filer Wildcats.

Vilhauer, held to five points in the first half, blazed away in the last two periods. He accounted for all Minico's points in the last quarter, hitting seven free throws.

The young Wilcats were plagued by 18 bad passes and a cold night from the field.

Minico, trailing throughout first half, rallied in the second half to cop a 52-47 preliminary victory.

Title Match Slated for Light Heavies

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—A light heavyweight title fight between champion Archie Moore and Germany's Erich Schoeppner was virtually set Tuesday night for a March date in Madison Square garden under the promotion of Feature Sports Inc.

Moore referred all queries to his lawyer, Bill Yale, because so much litigation has been involved in the negotiations for the fight, on-again and off-again since last summer.

Yale, of San iDego, said "We're all set. It's up to Schoeppner now in Germany."

Moore indicated at the New York boxing writers dinner that the likely date for the fight was March 20.

Combs Is First in Steer Wrestling

DENVER, Jan. 18 (AP)—Less than two seconds separated first and sixth places in Tuesday night's steer wrestling competition at the National Western rodeo in Denver.

Top payoff for the frist go-round went to Bennie Combs of Checotah, Okla., who pinned his steer in 4.4 seconds. Combs picked up earnings of $1,592.

The sixth-place performer, Nathan Halley of Hanna, Okla., was timed in 6.1 seconds but won only $274.

Tater Decker of Clayton, Okla., was second, followed by C. R. Boucher of Burkburnett, Tex.

Dates Changed

POCATELLO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Tournament officials announced Tuesday that dates for the National AAU boxing championships in Pocatello have been changed to April 6, 7 and 8. This is one week earlier than dates originally announced, said tournament manager Earl Pond.

Pond also announced that tickets will go on sale in Pocatello and Idaho Falls March 1.

Lane Won't Swap Established Stars For Fringe Men

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18 (AP)—Trader Frank Lane, the Kansas City Athletics' new general manager, says he does not plan wholesale trading of established major leaguers on the A's roster. He still has his interest in making trades but hopes to give up only fringe players. "We could make a lot of deals right now in which we could give up an established player and get several fringe players," Lane told a newsman. "But we have too many players of that type already.

"What I want to do is take two fringe players and get one fairly adequate player who has a chance of playing regularly for us.

"I talked with Bill Veeck last Sunday when I was in Chicago for the writers' dinner but we didn't get anywhere. You know Bill. He'd give you a biscuit for a barrel of flour."

Lane said Veeck was willing to give pitcher Turk Lown and infielder Sam Esposito of the White Sox for the A's second baseman, Jerry Lumpe, but that he wasn't interested.

Lane said the White Sox would also like to have outfielder Russ Snyder "but they just don't want to offer anything."

Lane also talked with Lee MacPhail, general manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

"They're looking for an outfielder," Lane said. "They offered us players like Clint Courtney and Gordon Jones. I didn't mention any front line players to him either. Lee didn't even ask about outfielder Bill Tuttle, although I know they'd like to have him."

Mays Is Only Sure Thing in Giant Lineup

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (AP)—About the only thing set with the San Francisco Giants for 1961 is Willie Mays in center field.

Willie probably will bat in his customary No. 3 spot, but Manager Alvin Dark says he isn't sure about that.

Quite a contrast with last year when you could almost lick off the batting order before the club went into spring training.

"We're going into training with a lot of things in mind," Dark declared. "How we go in is not necessarily how we'll come out."

Can he find a capable relief pitcher? Will Willie McCovey regain his 1959 batting form? Where will Harvey Kuenn fit in? Will any rookies make the grade? Can the Giants land another starting hurler? How about catching?

Those are questions Dark faces

Hight-hander Jack Sanford could become the relief pitcher

Dark told a news conference "if Sanford's control is dependable, he could be very useful. He is a fellow who likes to pitch. It's been proven the more he works, the better he is."

On McCovey, who flopped last season after being the rookie-of-the year in 1959, Dark said, "McCovey tried to pull the ball because he thought the wind would help him if he pulled. I think if he goes back to hitting through the middle and just hits where the ball is, he'll be a good hitter again."

Dark will await until spring training to decide where Kuehn will play.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 18 (AP) — Jack McMahon, former St. John's star and a seven-year professional standout, Tuesday was named coach of the Kansas City entry in the new American Basketball league.

Murtaugh Nips Kimberly in Final Minute

KIMBERLY, Jan. 18—The Murtaugh Red Devils ended a see-saw battle by hitting four free throws in the final minute to defeat the Kimberly Bulldogs 46-43 Tuesday night.

After trailing by four points going into the last period, the Devils caught up, forged into a six-point lead and then lost that with seconds left. Eric Hove hit a driving layin to shove the Bulldogs ahead 43-42 but Murtaugh's Dick Morgan nullified that with a pair of free throws and a 44-43 Red Devils lead.

With four seconds left, Stastny went to the foul line for two insurance charity tosses.

Hereford Is Sold at Show For $30,600

DENVER, Jan. 18 (AP) — The champion Hereford bull at the National Western Stock show was sold Tuesday for $30,600 to John Gottfield, owner of Hillcrest Farms at Pocahontas, Ill.

The bull, HR Silver Image 70, was sold by the Herschede ranch of Hereford, Ariz. The price was well below the show's alltime high of $50,000 set in 1945 for a Hereford bull.

A horned Hereford bull consigned by the Northern Pump company Farms of Richmond, Ill., was sold for $18,000, nearly double the highest price paid in this division at the 1960 show.

The buyers were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Reese, owners of the Pinecreek Hereford ranch at Salmon, Ida.

World Seem Cruel? Hal Says Be "Constructive Dreamer"

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP) — Does the world sometimes seem too big for you?

Well, it is.

Do you sometimes feel small, futile and lost—an overwhelmed human zero in an inhuman wilderness called civilization?

Well, you probably are.

But cheer up. Every normal person feels that way part of the time. But there is no need to feel like that all the time.

There is a way out. Become a day dreamer—at whatever time of day you need it most.

Some people sneer at day dreamers as impractical. They are usually unimaginative people who had only one dream in their lives. They put this dream into harness and beat it with a whip until it got them what they wanted out of living.

Then they discover that wasn't really all they wanted from life after all. So they lose their faith in dreams of any kind. In their own frustration they try to knock down everybody else's dreams. Such people are knotheads.

There are two types of day dreamers, and it is essential that you become the right one.

The boss walks by your desk and says, "Hello." If you automatically wonder, "What did he mean by that—is he going to fire me?" you are a fearful day dreamer.

This is the wrong kind. You will dwell only on dreams of dread, and nothing is more pitiful.

But if the boss says "Hello" to you, and you immediately begin to figure what changes you'll make in company policy when he takes you in as partner, you are on the right track. You are a constructive day dreamer. Dreams give you security and hope, and that's what dreams are for.

Here is how the successful day dreamer operates in fantasy:

He sips a glass of cheap red wine in a cheap restaurant, and at once becomes a Paris boulevardier dawdling over champagne.

He may be only a clerk, but if they put two telephones on his desk to answer, he assumes in his head the role of a Wall street tycoon.

He bets $2 on the long-shot in the first race at the track, and plans to parlay his winnings by betting them on every other long-shot of the day. Sometime, somewhere, every long-shot will come in first, and if this should be the right track and the right day he will go home a multimillionaire.

The great virtue of day dreaming is that you can be anybody, go anywhere, do anything—but escape any responsibility for your decisions or actions. You make of life a game—a pretense guiltless of hypocrisy.

There is only one danger. The day-dreamer knows true happiness only if he doesn't try to translate his impossible dreams into deeds. That way lies disaster.

It is all right for a mouse to day-dream that it is a dinosaur only so long as it doesn't try to attack a cat.
